departed from me, and answereth me no more, neither by prophets, nor by dreams: therefore I have called thee, that thou mayest make known unto me what I shall do.

16 Then said Samuel, Wherefore then dost thou ask of me, seeing the LORD is departed from thee, and is become thine enemy?

17 And the LORD hath done to him as he spake by me: for the LORD hath rent the kingdom out of thine hand, and given it to thy neighbour, even to David:

18 Because thou obeyedst not the voice of the LORD, nor executedst his fierce wrath upon Amalek, therefore hath the LORD done this thing unto thee this day.

19 Moreover the LORD will also deliver Israel with thee into the hand of the Philistines: and to-morrow shalt thou and thy sons be with me: the LORD also shall deliver the host of Israel into the hand of the Philistines.

20 Then Saul fell straightway all along on the earth, and was sore afraid, because of the words of Samuel: and there was no strength in him; for he had eaten no bread all the day, nor all the night.

21 ¶ And the woman came unto Saul, and saw that he was sore troubled, and said unto him, Behold, thine handmaid hath obeyed thy voice, and I have put my life in my hand, and have hearkened unto thy words which thou spakest unto me:

22 Now therefore, I pray thee, hearken thou also unto the voice of thine handmaid, and let me set a morsel of bread before thee; and eat, that thou mayest have strength when thou goest on thy way.

23 But he refused, and said, I will not eat. But his servants, together in the midst of the seas; yet thou art a man, and not God, though thou set thine heart as the heart of God:

3 Behold, thou art wiser than Daniel; there is no secret that they can hide from thee:
4 With thy wisdom and with thine understanding thou hast gotten thee riches, and hast gotten gold and silver into thy treasures:
5 By thy great wisdom and by thy traffic hast thou increased thy riches, and thine heart is lifted up because of thy riches:
6 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; Because thou hast set thine heart as the heart of God;
7 Behold, therefore I will bring strangers upon thee, the terrible of the nations: and they shall draw their swords against the beauty of thy wisdom, and they shall defile thy brightness.
8 They shall bring thee down to the pit, and thou shalt die the deaths of them that are slain in the midst of the seas.
9 Wilt thou yet say before him that slayeth thee, I am God? but thou shalt be a man, and no god, in the hand of him that slayeth thee.
10 Thou shalt die the deaths of the uncircumcised by the hand of strangers: for I have spoken it, saith the Lord GOD.
11 ¶ Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,
12 Son of man, take up a lamentation upon the king of Tyrus, and say unto him, Thus saith the Lord GOD; Thou sealest up the sum, full of wisdom, and perfect in beauty.
13 Thou hast been in Eden the garden of God; every precious stone was thy covering, the sardius, topaz, and the diamond, the beryl, the onyx, and the jasper, the sapphire, the emerald, and the carbuncle, and gold: the workmanship of thy tabrets and of thy pipes was prepared in thee in the day that thou wast created.
14 Thou art the anointed cherub that covereth; and I have set thee so: thou wast upon the holy mountain of God; thou hast walked up and down in the midst of the stones of fire.
15 Thou wast perfect in thy midst of thee with violence, and thou hast sinned: therefore I will cast thee as profane out of the mountain of God: and I will destroy thee, O covering cherub, from the midst of the stones of fire.
17 Thine heart was lifted up because of thy beauty; thou hast corrupted thy wisdom by reason of thy brightness: I will cast thee to the ground, I will lay thee before kings, that they may behold thee.
18 Thou hast defiled thy sanctuaries by the multitude of thine iniquities, by the iniquity of thy traffic; therefore will I bring forth a fire from the midst of thee, it shall devour thee, and I will bring thee to ashes upon the earth in the sight of all them that behold thee.
19 All they that know thee among the people shall be astonished at thee: thou shalt be a terror, and never shalt thou be any more.
20 ¶ Again the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,
21 Son of man, set thy face against Zidon, and prophesy against it,
22 And say, Thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold, I am against thee, O Zidon; and I will be glorified in the midst of thee: and they shall know that I am the LORD, when I shall have executed judgments in her, and shall be sanctified in her.
23 For I will send into her pestilence, and blood into her streets; and the wounded shall be judged in the midst of her by the sword upon her on every side; and they shall know that I am the LORD.
24 ¶ And there shall be no more a pricking brier unto the house of Israel, nor any grieving thorn of all that are round about them, that despised them; and they shall know that I am the Lord GOD.
25 Thus saith the Lord GOD; When I shall have gathered the house of Israel from the people among whom they are scattered, and shall be sanctified in them in the sight of the heathen, then shall they dwell in their land that I have given to my servant Jacob.

[3] every morning doth he bring his judgment to light, he faileth not; but the unjust knoweth no shame.

6 I have cut off the nations: their [4] towers are desolate; I made their streets waste, that none passeth by: their cities are destroyed, so that there is no man, that there is none inhabitant.

7 I said, Surely thou wilt fear me, thou wilt receive instruction; so their dwelling should not be cut off, howsoever I punished them: but they rose early, and [f] corrupted all their doings.

8 ¶ Therefore [g] wait ye upon me, saith the LORD, until the day that I rise up to the prey: for my determination is to [h] gather the nations, that I may assemble the kingdoms, to pour upon them mine indignation, even all my fierce anger: for all the earth shall be devoured with the fire of my jealousy.

9 For then will I turn to the people a pure [5] language, that they may all call upon the name of the LORD, to serve him with one [6] consent.

10 From [i] beyond the rivers of Ethiopia my suppliants, even the daughter of my dispersed, shall bring mine offering.

11 In that day shalt thou not be ashamed for all thy doings, wherein thou hast transgressed against me: for then I will take away out of the midst of thee them that rejoice [j] in thy pride, and thou shalt no more be haughty [7] because of my holy mountain.

12 I will also leave in the midst of thee an [k] afflicted and poor people, who hath builded the house hath more honour than the house.

4 For every house is builded by some man; but he that built all things is God.
5 And Moses verily was faithful in all his house, as a servant, for a testimony of those things which were to be spoken after;
6 But Christ as a Son over his own house; whose house are we, if we hold fast the confidence and the rejoicing of the hope firm unto the end.
7 Wherefore (as the Holy Ghost saith, To-day if ye will hear his voice,
8 Harden not your hearts, as in the provocation, in the day of temptation in the wilderness;
9 When your fathers tempted me, proved me, and saw my works forty years.
10 Wherefore I was grieved with that generation, and said, They do alway err in their heart; and they have not known my ways.
11 So I sware in my wrath, They shall not enter into my rest.)
12 Take heed, brethren, lest there be in any of you an evil heart of unbelief, in departing from the living God.
13 But exhort one another daily, while it is called To-day; lest any of you be hardened through the deceitfulness of sin.
14 For we are made partakers of Christ, if we hold the beginning of our confidence stedfast unto the end;
15 While it is said, To-day if ye will hear his voice, harden not your hearts, as in the provocation.
16 For some, when they had heard, did provoke: howbeit not all that came out of Egypt by Moses.
17 But with whom was he grieved forty years? was it not with them that had sinned, whose carcases fell in the wilderness?
18 And to whom sware he that they it is said, To-day if ye will hear his voice, harden not your hearts.
8 For if Jesus had given them rest, then would he not afterward have spoken of another day.
9 There remaineth therefore a rest to the people of God.
10 For he that is entered into his rest, he also hath ceased from his own works, as God did from his.)
11 Let us labour therefore to enter into that rest, lest any man fall after the same example of unbelief.
12 For the word of God is quick, and powerful, and sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart.
13 Neither is there any creature that is not manifest in his sight: but all things are naked and opened unto the eyes of him with whom we have to do.
14 Seeing then that we have a great High Priest, that is passed into the heavens, Jesus the Son of God, let us hold fast our profession.
15 For we have not an high priest which cannot be touched with the feeling of our infirmities; but was in all points tempted like as we are, yet without sin.
16 Let us therefore come boldly unto the throne of grace, that we may obtain mercy, and find grace to help in time of need.

CHAPTER 5.

FOR every high priest taken from among men is ordained for men in things pertaining to God, that he may offer both gifts and sacrifices for sins:
2 Who can have compassion on the ignorant, and on them that are out of the way; for that he himself also is compassed with infirmity.

Christ rebuketh those ST. MATTHEW, XII. that sought a sign.

37 For by thy words thou shalt be justified, and by thy words thou shalt be condemned.

38 ¶ Then certain of the scribes and of the Pharisees answered, saying, Master, we would see a sign from thee.

39 But he answered and said unto them, An evil and adulterous generation seeketh after a sign; and there shall no sign be given to it, but the sign of the prophet Jonas:

40 For as Jonas was three days and three nights in the whale's belly; so shall the Son of man be three days and three nights in the heart of the earth.

41 The men of Nineveh shall into my house from whence I came out; and when he is come, he findeth it empty, swept, and garnished.

45 Then goeth he, and taketh with himself seven other spirits more wicked than himself, and they enter in and dwell there: and the last state of that man is worse than the first. Even so shall it be also unto this wicked generation.

46 ¶ While he yet talked to the people, behold, his mother and his brethren stood without, desiring to speak with him.

47 Then one said unto him, Behold, thy mother and thy brethren stand without, desir-

The great REVELATION, 13. red dragon.

4 And his tail drew the third part of the stars of heaven, and did cast them to the earth: and the dragon stood before the woman which was ready to be delivered, for to devour her child as soon as it was born.

5 And she brought forth a man-child, who was to rule all nations with a rod of iron: and her child was caught up unto God, and to his throne.

6 And the woman fled into the wilderness, where she hath a place prepared of God, that they should feed her there a thousand two hundred and threescore days.

7 And there was war in heaven: Michael and his angels fought against the dragon; and the dragon fought and his angels,

8 And prevailed not; neither was their place found any more in heaven.

9 And the great dragon was cast out, that old serpent, called the Devil, and Satan, which deceiveth the whole world: he was cast out into the earth, and his angels were cast out with him.

10 And I heard a loud voice saying in heaven, Now is come salvation, and strength, and the kingdom of our God, and the power of his Christ: for the accuser of our brethren is cast down, which accused them before our God day and night.

11 And they overcame him by the blood of the Lamb, and by the word of their testimony; and they loved not their lives unto the death.

12 Therefore rejoice, ye heavens, and ye that dwell in them. Woe to the inhabiters of the earth and of the sea! for the devil is come down unto you, having great wrath, because he knoweth that he hath but a short time.

13 And when the dragon saw that he was cast unto the earth, he persecuted the woman which brought forth the man-child.

14 And to the woman were given two wings of a great eagle, that she might fly into the wilderness, into her place, where she is nourished for a time, and times, and half a time, from the face of the serpent.

15 And the serpent cast out of his mouth water as a flood after the woman, that he might cause her to be carried away of the flood.

16 And the earth helped the woman; and the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed up the flood which the dragon cast out of his mouth.

17 And the dragon was wroth with the woman, and went to make war with the remnant of her seed, which keep the commandments of God, and have the testimony of Jesus Christ.

CHAPTER 13.

The beast with seven heads and ten horns.

Christ blesseth S. MARK, 10. little children.

3 And he answered and said unto them, What did Moses command you?
4 And they said, Moses suffered to write a bill of divorcement, and to put her away.
5 And Jesus answered and said unto them, For the hardness of your heart he wrote you this precept:
6 But from the beginning of the creation God made them male and female.
7 For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, and cleave to his wife;
8 And they twain shall be one flesh: so then they are no more twain, but one flesh.
9 What therefore God hath joined together, let not man put asunder.
10 And in the house his disciples asked him again of the same matter.
11 And he saith unto them, Whosoever shall put away his wife, and marry another, committeth adultery against her.
12 And if a woman shall put away her husband, and be married to another, she committeth adultery.
13 ¶ And they brought young children to him, that he should touch them: and his disciples rebuked those that brought them.
14 But when Jesus saw it, he was much displeased, and said unto them, Suffer the little children to come unto me, and forbid them not: for of such is the kingdom of God.
15 Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child, he shall not enter therein.
16 And he took them up in his arms, put his hands upon them, and blessed them.
17 ¶ And when he was gone forth into the way, there came one running, and kneeled to him, and asked him, Good Master, what shall I do that I may inherit eternal life?
18 And Jesus said unto him, Why callest thou me good? there is none good but one, that is, God.
19 Thou knowest the commandments, Do not commit adultery, Do not kill, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Defraud not, Honour thy father and mother.
20 And he answered and said unto him, Master, all these have I observed from my youth.
21 Then Jesus, beholding him, loved him, and said unto him, One thing thou lackest: go thy way, sell whatsoever thou hast and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come, take up the cross, and follow me.
22 And he was sad at that saying, and went away grieved: for he had great possessions.
23 ¶ And Jesus looked round about, and saith unto his disciples, How hardly shall they that have riches enter into the kingdom of God!
24 And the disciples were astonished at his words. But Je-

19 Now I tell you before it come, that, when it is come to pass, ye may believe that I am he.
20 Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that receiveth whomsoever I send receiveth me; and he that receiveth me receiveth him that sent me.
21 When Jesus had thus said, he was troubled in spirit, and testified, and said, Verily, verily, I say unto you, That one of you shall betray me.
22 Then the disciples looked one on another, doubting of whom he spake.
23 Now there was leaning on Jesus' bosom one of his disciples, whom Jesus loved.
24 Simon Peter therefore beckoned to him, that he should ask who it should be of whom he spake.
25 He then lying on Jesus' breast saith unto him, Lord, who is it?
26 Jesus answered, He it is to whom I shall give a sop, when I have dipped it. And when he had dipped the sop, he gave it to Judas Iscariot, the son of Simon.
27 And after the sop Satan entered into him. Then said Jesus unto him, That thou doest, do quickly.
28 Now no man at the table knew for what intent he spake this unto him.

The ROMANIC REVIEW

Founded BY PROFESSOR HENRY ALFRED TODD,
Edited BY PROFESSOR JOHN L. GERIG of Columbia University.
Published Quarterly. Now in its seventeenth volume.

This is the only review published in English which is devoted solely to the Romance languages and literatures. It contains critical articles on different aspects of French, Spanish, Italian, Portuguese, Provencal, and Rumanian literatures, as well as technical studies on the history, phonetics and philology of these languages. The Review has lately extended its scope to include critical studies of contemporary movements in literature, and surveys of Romance philology. Besides the usual exhaustive reviews of books, brief book-reviews, book-lists, book-notes, literary news, faculty and other notes are additional features of interest.

Subscription price $4.00 per year. Orders for subscriptions should be addressed to the Columbia University Press, Columbia University, New York City.

The GERMANIC REVIEW

On January 1, 1926 the Department of the Germanic Languages and Literatures of Columbia University began the publication of the GERMANIC REVIEW, a quarterly of approximately 80 to 96 pages. It is devoted to researches dealing with the Germanic Languages and Literatures, except English, and includes a limited number of reviews of books and other publications which make scientific contributions to this field.

Correspondence is invited concerning articles for publication in the Review. It may be addressed to any one of the following Editorial Committee:

ROBERT HERNDON FIFE
FREDERICK W. J. HEUSER
ARTHUR F. J. REMY

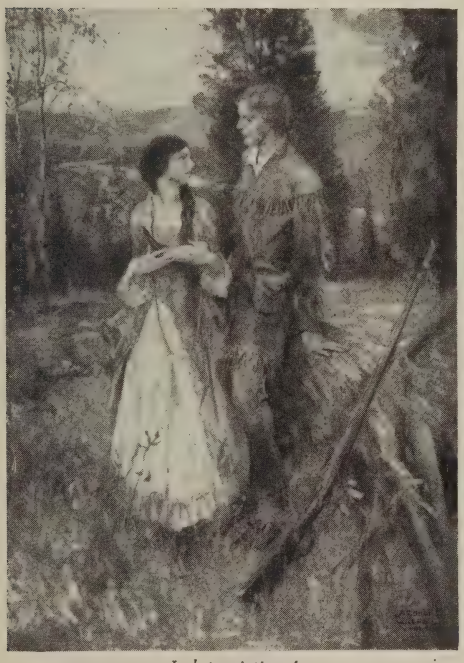
James Oliver CURWOOD

author of such great stories as "The Ancient Highway" and "The River's End," has waited eighteen years to write

His First Historical Novel

The BLACK HUNTER

The Best of Its Kind Since Cooper's "The Deerslayer"



Jacket painting for "The Black Hunter"

NEVER has Curwood written such a book as THE BLACK HUNTER, a story of the 1750's in Quebec—the most picturesque time in the most colorful spot on the American Continent.

If you've a spark of romance in your soul, this novel of the days of flashing rapier and stealthy tomahawk will fan it to a blaze. And behind the book will be our own enthusiasm for it, expressed in Cosmopolitan advertising.

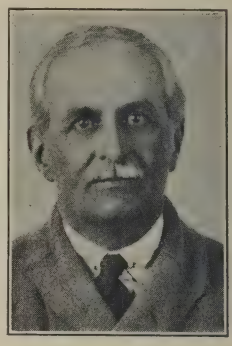
ROBERT HICHENS

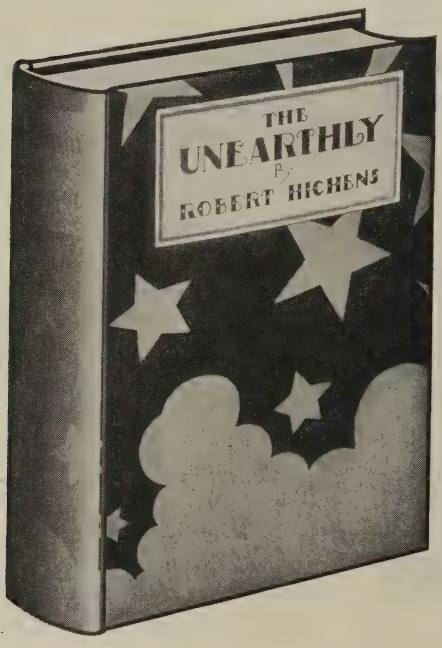


author of "The Garden of Allah," "Bella Donna" and other fine novels, deals with the biggest theme of his distinguished career in

The Unearthly

A Novel of a Strange Personality That Touched the Lives of Mayfair's Wasters

ONCE in a great while a book is written which does more than reflect the life about us, does more than restate the problems which try our souls—a book which offers bread, not a stone, to the hunger that every human spirit knows. Such a book is THE UNEARTHLY.



This novel of Hichens strikes a new note. Piercing to the quick of the mind, it goes even deeper than the emotions, and finds that "in human nature which loves to wallow, there is nevertheless rooted a strange contradiction—the impulse to mount."

PETER B. KYNE'S

Glorious New Novel of the California Forests.

The Understanding Heart

WHERE the wooded hills rise in the clear air of Northern California, there is the scene of THE UNDERSTANDING HEART, and there is Bogus lookout.

The lookout on Bogus is a girl—solitary but not friendless. For under the chambray gown of Monica Dale beats that understanding heart which wins the world. And here within the sweep of her Forest Service telescope is played the drama of poor Bob Mason, loyal Monica, brave old Uncle Charley, impetuous Tony Garland, and the trial by fire which brings good and ill to their tangled fortunes.

THE UNDERSTANDING HEART is a novel of matched wits, splendid courage, transcendent optimism, and of people you will love to know.

In short such a Kyne novel as we rejoice to back with the best advertising campaign we can devise.

DEAN CORNWELL

America's Foremost Illustrator

has painted with the true pigments of the Orient the twelve scenes in the Holy Land reproduced in full color in THE CITY OF THE GREAT KING.

These are not mere fanciful reconstructions of a past era. They are actual Palestine of today, but their resemblance to that land in the time of Christ is probable, since the centuries have wrought slight change upon that arrested civilization.

A Child is Born

A Romance of Maternity

by

RAYMONDE MACHARD

The book which was crowned by the French Academy.

A CHILD IS BORN, the book by Raymonde Machard which was crowned with a grand prix by the French Academy and honored by a subscription from the City of Paris, now appears in English in an admirable translation by Madeleine Boyd.

This romance of prenatal maternity, written with incredible realism, appeared in France under the title "Tu Enfanteras"—literally, "Thou Art to Have a Child." From the day a young wife senses that she is to become a mother, every thought, action and sensation is revealed with candor to the hour of the child's birth. Mme. Machard has sincerely written such a record as has never been given to the world before. Its searching analysis of mental states, its tender wisdom and sublimated emotion make A CHILD IS BORN a book every woman will want to read and should read.

ÆSOP'S FABLES

Large type text with 8 color plates and 100 line drawings by Noble. 7½ x 10, cloth . . . . . Net, $2.00

"So readable and pleasing a volume that its publication is an act of permanent worth."—N. Y. Post.

ALBERT, EDWARD (George Watson's College, Edinburgh)

A History of English Literature. A practical text book, 632 pages, 8vo. Special Net, 2.50

"Shows a degree of intelligence both in plan and critical interpretation unusual in books on this subject."
—Prof. George H. Palmer.

A Short History of English Literature. 224 pages, 12mo. Special Net, 1.00

Follows the same excellent plan of the larger work, but more concisely, tracing by text, chart, and example the course of English letters from earliest Anglo-Saxon to present-day writers.

ALCOTT, LOUISA M.

Little Women. Complete. 600 pages, large type. 12 color illustrations by Percy Tarrant. 8vo . . . Net, 2.50

Among all books for girls, "Little Women" has kept its place at the top. The adventures of Jo, Amy, Beth, and Meg, are as well-known today as when first penned a half a century ago. This edition is particularly attractive both in text and color illustration.

ALMOND, LINDA STEVENS

Mary Redding Takes Charge. 310 pages. 3 illustrations in color. 8vo, Net, 1.75

Good books for girls in their 'teens are not easy to procure. They either err on the side of childishness, or they too easily become works of romance. The present story is pleasing because it strikes the happy medium of normal, active girlhood. Mary Redding is a happy-go-lucky but resourceful girl of about fifteen, who has a lively household to look after. The book is delightfully illustrated in color from drawings by Constance Whittemore.

AMERICAN CITIZENSHIP

Under auspices American Bar Association. 12mo, cloth . . . . Net, 1.00

Famous Men of Science. Revised and enlarged. 344 pages, 16 illustrations. 8vo . . . . . Net, $2.00

"Life stories of Kelvin, Pasteur, Fabre, as well as Copernicus, Newton, Herschel and others. Mrs. Bolton does not stress the scientific side of her subject so much as the human. She is concerned with the men themselves, and tries to reveal the secret of their careers."—Boston Transcript.

Born of New England stock, Mrs. Bolton was married soon after the Civil War, and removed to Cleveland. She was associated with Frances E. Willard and others in the woman's temperance movement, in the seventies: then became associate editor of The Congregationalist for three years. In the eighties, she and her husband traveled extensively in this and foreign lands where she met many noted people whom she was later to describe with such photographic fidelity in her books. Busy to the last she passed away February 20, 1916.

"This edition has not only been revised, but materially enlarged. The additions, together with a list of illustrative passages quoted from the poets, and an index and dictionary, bring the work up to more than nine hundred pages, and make it simply invaluable for reading or reference."—Living Age.

Thomas Bulfinch deserves especial mention as one of America's earliest classical scholars and editors. He was born in Boston in 1796, in almost the beginning of the Republic, and was graduated in 1814 at Harvard University.

Soon after leaving college he took up the profession of teaching but soon abandoned it for a business career and became connected with the Boston Merchants' Bank. However, he never lost his love for the classics and devoted his leisure moments chiefly to mythology.

He won his literary reputation in 1855 by the publication of his "Age of Fable," which, as he stated, was intended to "popularize mythology and extend the enjoyments of elegant literature." This was followed by the "Age of Chivalry" and "Legends of Charlemagne," and some half dozen other works dealing with legend or ancient history.

Bulfinch's books at once sprang into popularity, not only as supplementary text-books, but for general reading. They have been continuously reprinted ever since. The author himself became well-known in literary circles and numbered Longfellow among his personal friends. He passed away in 1867.

LILIAN GASK

Lilian Gask is a popular English writer who has achieved remarkable success in her stories of animals. She combines the close observation of a trained naturalist with the imagination of the story-teller. As a Fellow of the Royal Zoological Society she has been given the freedom of the London Zoo—that wonderful collection of birds, beasts, and reptiles brought from the far corners of the world. She likes best to fondle the animal babies. Furry little creatures, known only to the public at large as denizens of barred cages, nestle confidingly in her arms and make timid bids for affection.

But, best of all, Lilian Gask has seen into the hearts of children. She sees what they want to know about animals, and so makes these live for them.

Antique Spanish (genuine leather), boxed . . . . . Net, 4.50
Italian inlaid (genuine leather), gilt top, boxed . . . . . Net, 5.00

This book is biographical rather than critical. It tells the life stories of fifty great painters, both European and American, and traces the steps by which they reached the heights. The book is unusually well illustrated with examples of their art in color.

GILBERT, HENRY

Boys' Book of Pirates. New edition, with jacket and illustrations in full color. 320 pages, 8vo, cloth . Net, 2.75

True stories about pirates from the time of Cæsar down to the Spanish Main.

"Here is a book of pirate tales, to give delight to any boy—or any girl. And for good measure they are either true or founded on truth, so all the thrills are real thrills. Parents will discover still another virtue: the stories are taken from distinct successive historical periods."—Saturday Review of Literature.

GORDON, HOMER KING

Code of Men, a Western Story. Color frontispiece by Hastings. 328 pages. 12mo . . . . . Net, $2.00

A colorful Western story taking the reader out into the ranch life in New Mexico. The central figures are Smiling Jim, the resourceful owner of an extensive cattle ranch; Sully Lewis, a rascally engineer who tries to force him to sell out by cutting off his water supply; and Patricia, the girl from back East, who doesn't know what it's all about, and usually guesses wrong. A story crowded with action from the first page to the last.

GREENE, HOMER

The Blind Brother.

8vo. Illustrated . . . . Net, 1.00

This is not only a first-prize story for a famous story-paper, but also a touching account of a blind twelve-year-old boy, doorkeeper at a mine, who "kept up heart and never let hope go."

WARREN LEE GOSS

Jack Gregory. A Boy's Adventures in the War of the Revolution. 270 pages, colored jacket and 4 illustrations in full color. 8vo, cloth . . . . . Net, $1.75

"We are glad to see that the boys are still fond of stories of the Revolution. Mr. Goss carries on the tale of Jack's adventures in the War of the Revolution in much the same fashion in which he has already related the story of the boy Jed in the Civil War."—Outlook.

Jed's Boy. 8vo, illustrated . . Net, 1.75

"'Jed' was a book brought forth by the Civil War which has been reprinted many times, and which was read and re-read by the boys of other years. This is the story of a nephew of 'Jed,' who is altogether worthy of his hero uncle." — Presbyterian Banner.

In the Navy. A story of naval adventures during the Civil War. Illustrated. 12mo . . . . . Net, 1.50

"The author takes as usual for his fiction a foundation of reality, and therefore the story reads like a transcript of real life." — The Marine Journal.

Jack Alden: Adventures of the Virginia Campaigns. 1861-65. Illustrated. 12mo . . . . . Net, 1.50

"Its pictures of scenes and incidents of army life are among the best that we can remember to have read." — The New York Nation.

Jed. A boy's adventures in the army. Illustrated. 12mo . . . . . Net, 1.50

"Of all the many stories of the Civil War that have been published—and their name is legion—it is not possible to mention one which for sturdy realism, intensity of interest, and range of narrative, can compare with Jed."—The Boston Beacon.

Tom Clifton. A story of adventures in Grant and Sherman's armies. Illustrated. 12mo . . . . . Net, $1.50

"Wholesome, stimulating in patriotism and manhood, noble in tone, unstained by any hint of sectionalism; full of good feeling; the work of a hero who himself did what he saw and relates." —The Detroit Free Press.

WARREN LEE GOSS

Warren Lee Goss was a veteran of the Civil War. His "Recollections of a Private," published soon after the war, first brought him fame as a writer; and his later series of boys' adventure stories headed by "Jed" still rank as prime favorites. Mr. Goss was born in Massachusetts. After the War he entered newspaper work and began his series of books which brought him at once into the forefront of popular writers for boys. He continued in active authorship until over ninety, remaining as alert mentally—and almost physically—as half a century and more before. At the time of his death, in 1925, he was the dean of American authors.

WILLIAM ELLIOT GRIFFIS

Japanese Fairy Tales. 219 pages, 8 colored illustrations.
8vo, cloth . . . . . Net, $1.75
"This delightful book. Whimsical fantastic, humorous, they give vivid pictures of life and customs in that wonderful little kingdom whose misfortune of late has turned our sympathy and interest towards it. Some of the stories, we are told, exist in no Japanese text."—Living Church.

Korean Fairy Tales. Illustrated in color. 8vo . . . . . Net, 1.75
"The folk-lore of Korea, in all its intense grotesqueness, appears in this collection ,of native tales. They have the beauty of strange exotics, whose roots you cannot see and whose leaves you cannot count. Children will love the stories, if only because of their uniting so many mysterious elements."—New York Post.

Welsh Fairy Tales. Illustrated in color. 8vo . . . . . Net, 1.75
"Here are tales of King Arthur and his knights, old tales told many, many times, but never in better form than as told by Dr. Griffis, and here are many other gatherings from the ancient folklore of the Cymric people woven in a most attractive fashion." — Christian Advocate.

Swiss Fairy Tales. Illustrated in color. 8vo . . . . . Net, 1.75
"There is a good deal more substance to these 25 chapters than to the average 'fairy story,' for the reader is bound to absorb quite a bit of understanding of Swiss life and its setting, while the traditions and folk-lore are served up as the dessert in each story."—Springfield Republican.

Dutch Fairy Tales. Illustrated. 8vo, cloth . . . . . Net, 1.75
"A sheaf of delightful fairy stories from Holland, which abounds in legend and child-lore. These are capital reading, with drollness as well as slyly indicated lessons of courage, thrift, and sturdy self-reliance."—Outlook.

Belgian Fairy Tales. 8vo, illustrated in color . . . . . Net, 1.75
"The stories are not only enchanting in their own elfin right, but also infuse into the juvenile mind some preparatory conceptions of the history of the chivalric days and of the ways of the Flemings and Walloons."—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

FRANK HELLER

The Emperor's Old Clothes. Translated from the Swedish by Robert Emmons Lee. 388 pages. 12mo, cloth. Net, $2.00

"The very best detective story I have read. . . . It abounds in gorgeous humor; it gets its personages into scrapes out of which the reader knows a priori that they cannot come alive, but they do; and it throws bright light, light such as cannot be thrown by the normal American, on the national traits of its many men and one woman."—ALLEN W. PORTERFIELD in The Bookman.

The Marriage of Yussuf Khan. Translated from the Swedish by Robert Emmons Lee, 340 pages, 12mo, cloth. Net, 2.00

The London Adventures of Mr. Collin. Translated from the Swedish by Pauline de Chary. 350 pages, 12mo. Net, 2.00

"Tired people and detective-story fans will delight in 'The London Adventures of Mr. Collin.' The seven adventures related in this book move with satisfying rapidity, revealing the most canny maneuvering and a deep insight into human motives. Clever, defiant and ironical is this rascally Mr. Collin from Sweden."—Springfield Republican.

The Grand Duke's Finances. Translated from the Swedish by Robert Emmons Lee. 350 pages, 12mo . . Net, 2.00

"The essential difference between Frank Heller and the Rinehart-McCutcheon school of romancers is that Heller admits that his stories are hokum. He has that tongue-in-the-cheek unction which characterizes all delightful and amoral liars. . . . An excellent tale. The weary public can stand many such."—Saturday Review of Literature.

"Frank Heller" is the nom de plume of a Swedish writer whose works are enjoying a wide popularity in Europe.

Mr. Collin Is Ruined: A novel, translated from the Swedish by Pauline de Chary. 344 pages, 12mo, cloth. Net, $2.00

"Collin is a quite distinctive and exhilarating villain; his audacity and ingenuity, coupled with his perfect affability, make him a fascinating figure. Always he has a refreshing sense of humor. Mr. Heller writes with remarkable ease and a sardonic strain that gives his work a peculiar appeal."

CHRISTIAN D. LARSON

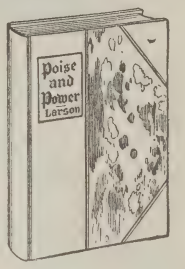
Poise and Power Series

It is only a few years, not more than a quarter of a century, since modern psychology began to proclaim the new science of human thought and action, so that we have had but a short time to demonstrate what a more intelligent application of our energies and forces can accomplish. But already the evidence is coming in from all sources, revealing results that frequently border upon the extraordinary. Man can do far more with himself and his life than he has been doing in the past; he can call into action, and successfully apply, far more ability, energy and worth than his forefathers ever imagined.

It is the purpose of these books not only to discuss these greater powers and possibilities in man, but also to present practical methods through which they may be applied, and to encourage as many as possible to study and apply these greater powers within them so that they may not only become greater and richer and more worthy as individuals, but may also become the forerunners of that higher and more wonderful race of which we all have so fondly dreamed.



These handy-size volumes are just the thing for carrying in one's pocket or bag on a journey. They are direct, terse, to-the-point utterances on every-day subjects in which all thinking people are interested. 16mo, cloth . . . . Net, $ .90 each

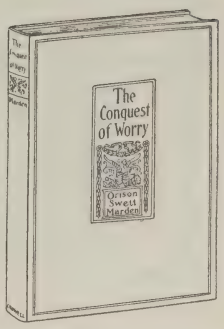
THE MARDEN INSPIRATIONAL BOOKS



Lord Northcliffe, the great English publisher, who was a world figure, wrote: "I believe Dr. Marden's writings will be of immense assistance to all young men."

John Wanamaker: "I would have been willing, if it had been necessary, to have gone without at least one meal to buy one of Dr. Marden's books."

John Burroughs said: "You preach a sound, vigorous, wholesome doctrine and preach it with much eloquence."

Mr. Roosevelt wrote to the author: "I am so deeply touched and pleased by your editorial [reprinted in 'He Can Who Thinks He Can'] that I must write and tell you so. Believe me, nothing could have given me more pleasure, or made me more resolute to try not to forfeit the respect of those for whom you speak."

Each book, 12mo, cloth . . . . . Net, $1.75

Be Good to Yourself. Showing the importance of keeping oneself at the "top of condition."

Choosing a Career. Considerations relating to the choice of a life calling and suggestions.

Conquest of Worry. The two greatest enemies of the human race, are Fear and Worry.

Every Man a King or Might in Mind Mastery. Emphasizes the truth that "as a man thinketh, so is he."

Exceptional Employee. Will help young men and women to "get out of the rut."

Getting On. This book will show you why many men do not get on; why others cannot be kept back; and the secret of how to forge ahead.

He Can Who Thinks He Can. Points the way to making the most of talents and education. Reinforced by many telling examples from the lives of others.

How to Get What You Want. A book for the times, and bristles with things worth quoting. A book that is no less practical than its title.

Joys of Living. Do you feel at times that you are missing your share of happiness? This book will help you to get real happiness out of life.

Keeping Fit. Any live business man who has been a good liver should read this book and heed its warnings.

Love's Way. Is there a better way than the mad scramble for wealth or position?

Making Friends With Our Nerves. Recognizing that one of the crying modern complaints is "nerves," Dr. Marden asks the reader to be honest with these faithful servants.

Making Life a Masterpiece. Urges the necessity of being true to the best we know. A book which preaches a lofty ideal.

Making Yourself. Full of wise advice on poise, conversation, reading, spare moments, etc.

Masterful Personality. There are some who naturally take the lead, and others that "knuckle under." In which class do you belong?

THE MARDEN INSPIRATIONAL BOOKS—Continued

Judge Ben B. Lindsey: "Dr. Marden is one of the wonders of our time. I personally feel under a debt of obligation to him for his marvelous inspiration and help."

President McKinley once wrote: "I have read with unusual interest 'Pushing to the Front.' It cannot but be an inspiration to every boy or girl who reads it, and who is possessed of an honorable and high ambition. Nothing that I have seen of late is more worthy to be placed in the hands of the American youth."

Each book, 12mo, cloth . . . . . Net, $1.75

Miracle of Right Thought. Inspiring and reasonable. Will bring new life and new power to those who read it.

Optimistic Life. This book shows that "kindness is catching," that one of the most powerful forces is amiability. A book for those who smile.

Peace, Power and Plenty. Teaches that great achievements are wrought by self-confidence; that the bodily condition follows the thought; and that growing old is largely a habit.

Progressive Business Man. An exceedingly timely and useful book packed with pointers for wide awake business men.

Pushing to the Front. One of the most famous and widely read of the Marden books. Shows how successful men and women of all times and countries have, in the face of obstacles, struggled and won out.

Rising in the World. Preaches the higher success. A sterling book that sounds a trumpet call to honorable exertion.

Round Pegs in Square Holes. The Psychology of Success.

Secret of Achievement. This is a life-chart. By it you can check off the points that fit your case, and lay your course.

Self-Investment. No other investment will give you such returns as the culture of the finer self. This book gives some fundamental truths.

Selling Things. Sales managers will welcome this book. It inspires enthusiasm and gives confidence.

Success Fundamentals. A hand book on salesmanship, efficiency, health rules, and other every-day factors in the problem of success.

Training for Efficiency. A collection of the best of Dr. Marden's inspirational philosophy and practical teachings.

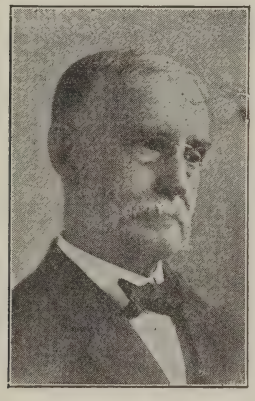
Victorious Attitude. Dr. Marden is a soul doctor. Put yourself in his hands, and doubt, fear, and all other evil growths of the spirit vanish.

Woman and Home. Gets at the very heart of questions that are uppermost in the public mind to day.

You Can, But Will You? Chapters on "The New Philosophy of Life," "The Price of Success," "The New Philosophy in Business," etc.

JAMES RUSSELL MILLER

Dr. Miller is the world's most widely read devotional writer. The secret of his success was told by him to a young minister who longed to be useful in a new field. "I have always loved people," he said. "I have had an intense desire all my life to help people in every way; not merely to help them into the Church, but to help them in their personal experiences, in their struggles and temptations, their quest for the best things in character. If you want to have success as a winner of men, as a helper of people, as the friend of the tempted and imperilled, you must love them and have a sincere desire to do them good."



Building of Character. The most important work is not the making of a living, but the making of a life. These chapters carry suggestion and inspiration in this line. 12mo . . . . . Net, $1.50

Dr. Miller's Year Book. A passage for each day, with a verse of Scripture and some practical thoughts for life. Suited for devotional use. 12mo . . . Net, 1.50

For the Best Things. Being good is not enough; striving to be better is not the loftiest aim. Nothing less than the best should ever satisfy an immortal being. 12mo . . . . . Net, 1.50

Glimpses Through Life's Windows. Selections from Dr. Miller's writings, chiefly in the form of incidents and illustrations, 16mo . . . . . Net, $1.50

Dr. Roget was of Swiss extraction, but born in London, in 1779. He was educated at the University of Edinburgh and studied medicine, afterwards practicing as a physician in Manchester and London where he gained high reputation. He was made a Fellow of the Royal Society in 1815, and served for fifteen years as its secretary. In 1839 he became connected with the University of London and wrote on many medical subjects. He died in 1869.

But the work that best preserves his name is the great "THESAURUS OF ENGLISH WORDS AND PHRASES, classified and arranged so as to facilitate the expression of ideas and assist in literary composition." To the compilation of this work Doctor Roget devoted much of his time between 1840, when he retired from active practice, and 1852, when it was published. During his own lifetime the work went through twenty-eight editions. Many generations of literary men, of journalists, and of all who direct words to an audience by pen or mouth have testified to its extraordinary practical utility.

JOHANNA SPYRI

"Madame Spyri, like Hans Andersen, had by temperament a peculiar skill in writing the simple histories of an innocent world. In all her stories she shows an underlying desire to preserve children alike from misunderstanding and the mistaken kindness that frequently hinders the happiness and natural development of their lives and characters. The author, as we feel in reading her tales, lived among the scenes and people she describes, and the setting of her stories has the charm of the mountain scenery amid which she places her small actors."

JOHANNA SPYRI—Continued

Johanna Spyri drew the material for her children's stories from scenes which were most familiar to her. Born in the little town of Hirzel, high up in the Swiss mountains, she herself lived much of the life which she was to depict so graphically as to make it peculiarly her own in literature.

All her life she loved and understood children, as every reader of her charming stories must realize; for no one else, whose heart was not full of sympathy and affection, could have succeeded in preserving such faithful vignettes of childhood.

LYOF N. TOLSTOI

Tolstoi's long and active career is expressed in his books. Born in 1828 and passing away in 1910, his whole life was a message of individuality and protest. Of no author could it more truly be said, "He lives in his books."

The 15 volumes comprising this set are printed in uniform style, pocket size, on Bible paper, with photogravure frontispieces, two-color title pages and decorative end papers.

The text is translated directly from the original by such competent scholars as Aylmer Maude, Nathan Haskell Dole and Isabel F. Hapgood. The type page is excellent and the illustrations comprise rare portraits and scenes.

"I should agree with Mr. Howells in placing Tolstoi with all his faults, at the head."—THOMAS WENTWORTH HIGGINSON.

"My father has read your translations and approves of them very much—they are very faithfully and carefully done to his mind."

LYOF N. TOLSTOI—Continued

"As you read on, you say, not, 'This is like life,' but 'This is life.' It is not only the complexion, the very line of life, but its movement, its advances, its strange pauses, its seeming reversions to former conditions, and its perpetual change, its apparent isolations, its essential solidarity. It is a world, and you live in it while you read, and long afterward; but at no step have you been betrayed, not because your guide has warned you or exhorted you, but because he has been true, and has shown you all things as they are." How to Run a Store. A well-directed volume pointing out common mistakes in retail management and how to avoid them. 8vo . . . . . Net, 2.50

"Distinctly something new in the line of business economic handbooks. It has all the detailed information which economists and students of mercantile processes regard as essential ingredients of such a book; it has in their portrayal all the skill of a trained educator, but it has also 'pep' and genuine literary interest."—Journal of Commerce.

WILLIAMS, E. T. (University of California)

China Yesterday and Today. 600 pages. 31 illustrations and map. 8vo, cloth . . . . Special Net, 4.00

"A very complete history of ancient and modern China. Indispensable in courses on the Far East."—C. E. MARTIN, University of Southern California.

WILMOT-BUXTON, E. M.

Stories of Norse Heroes. This fine collection of tales from the Eddas and Sagas contains twenty-five stories, retold in simple, easy prose. Fully illustrated. 8vo . . . . . Net, $2.00

"These are tales which the Northmen tell concerning the wisdom of All-Father Odin, and how all things began and how they ended. A good book for all children, and for story-tellers."—A. L. A. Booklist.

WINES, F. H.

Punishment and Reformation. Revised by WINTHROP D. LANE. Special Net, 2.75

"A masterly treatise on the handling of crime."—New York Times.

"Will be helpful to every social worker."—The Churchman.

WISSLER, CLARK (Curator in Chief, Division of Anthropology, American Museum of Natural History)

Man and Culture. 371 pages, 18 diagrams. 8vo, cloth . Special Net, 2.75

"The fullest, simplest and most fascinating account of culture I have ever seen. Such wealth of illustration, firmness of touch, and clearness of statement bespeak the master. I am delighted to see what Dr. Wissler has made of this province of anthropology."—PROF. E. A. ROSS, University of Wisconsin.

"He who gives a book touches the springs of life, plays upon the keys of an organ whose notes will sound perhaps in other lands and in other centuries.

"The giver of books may be a conspirator with genius. Next to the great writer is the one who finds for him the right reader.

"Books carry the seed of life. Scatter them widely in the hope of harvest. Plant them one by one in the most fertile soil you can find.

"Books are at once the most exquisite intimate and the most broadly universal means of expression. In them is restoration and repose. In them is the irresistible call to go on.

"There are plenty of good books and there will be more. What the world needs is better use of them."—N. Y. Herald.

THE TREASURY SERIES FOR CHILDREN

These volumes contain the best literature for reading aloud to children in the first grade. The volumes have been carefully edited, are well printed and illustrated and will be found of the greatest value to parents and teachers. 12mo, cloth. Per vol. . . . . Net, $ .75

"The child that is brought up without a knowledge of the poems contained in 'A Treasury of Verse for Little Children' is wrongly deprived of one of the pleasures of youth and one of the pleasantest memories for maturer age."—Bellman.

A Treasury of Eskimo Tales. CLARA K. BAYLISS. Illustrated in color by CARLSON.

A Treasury of Myths. INEZ N. MCFEE. A collection of tales of the old Greek and other gods and heroes retold in simple style.

A Treasury of Flower Stories. INEZ N. MCFEE. Nearly every one of our well-known flowers has some legend connected with it —as this pleasant book shows.

A Treasury of Indian Tales. CLARA K. BAYLISS. The author, who has written other books of Indian tales, has had unusual opportunities to obtain this material from the Indians themselves, and other authoritative sources.

The Book of Nonsense. EDWARD LEAR. This quaint book contains all of Lear's limericks and drawings which appeared in the original English edition.

Happy Nursery Rhyme Book. CHRISTOPHER WOOD. The familiar old nursery rhymes will never lose their popularity. Here is a "happy" collection in more senses than one.

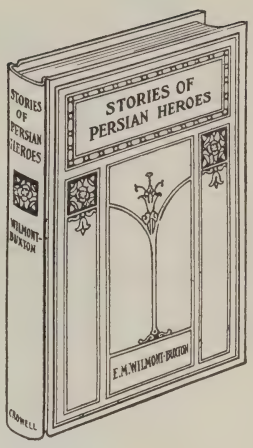
A Treasury of Verse for Little Children. M. G. EDGAR. Recognized to-day as the finest anthology of its kind that has thus far been published.

A Treasury of Folk Tales. LILIAN GASK. The author is particularly happy in her style and ability to tell these old folk tales, of European countries.

A Treasury of Animal Stories. LILIAN GASK. Miss Gask has long been known for her talent for writing stories of dogs, horses, and other animals. This is one of her best collections.

A Child's Garden of Verses. R. L. STEVENSON. One of the best known and most popular of all books for children.

TOLD THROUGH THE AGES SERIES



Each volume contains 256 pages of letterpress and Full-Page Illustrations, including reproductions from the best works of Lord Leighton, Sir E. Burne-Jones, G. F. Watts, D. G. Rossetti, Sir John Gilbert, Sir W. B. Richmond, Hon. John Collier, and other famous English and Continental artists.

Good Manners for all Occasions

By MARGARET E. SANGSTER

MRS. SANGSTER was one of the most popular magazine writers over a period of forty years. As the editor of Harper's Bazar, then five years on the editorial staff of the Ladies Home Journal, then on the Woman's Home Companion and Farm and Fireside, she came into touch with the personal interests of a vast number of the people. This splendid volume embraces every phase of social life and brings good form and etiquette within easy reach of every cultured home; correspondence, travel, introductions, courtship, weddings, receptions, entertainments, including special forms of good manners for children, women and men. Mrs. Sangster's book is reliable authority for every perplexing question in social etiquette.

Tom Martin the Breaker Boy

By RUTH P. PHELPS

TOMMY MARTIN'S life began in tragedy when an accident made him a waif, brought up in a miner's family, but he was born with a brave heart to endure privations and abuse, so that his pluck and industry carried him through to a happy reunion with his family. A boy who can overcome difficulties and make a place for himself in the world is an inspiration to every other boy, and Tommy had many exciting adventures before he won his way.

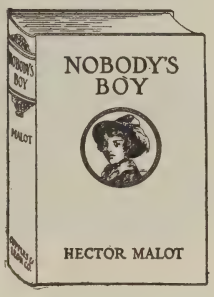
Nobody's Boy

(Sans Famille)

By HECTOR MALOT

Illustrated in Full Color, by John B. Gruelle



NOBODY'S BOY is Hector Malot's masterpiece. One of the supreme heart-interest stories of the world.

Parents and teachers, careful to secure books of noble ideas, will especially welcome this fine English version of "Sans Famille."

Every boy should read this superb story of a beautiful and loyal character.

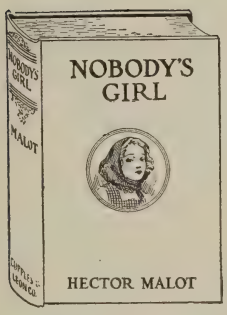
Cloth, 12mo, 384 pages, Jacket in Colors. Price, $1.50 net

Nobody's Girl

(En Famille)

By HECTOR MALOT

Illustrated by Thelma Gooch



NOBODY'S GIRL, published in France under the title "En Famille," follows "Nobody's Boy" as a companion juvenile story, and takes place with it as one of the supreme juvenile stories of the world. Like "Nobody's Boy" it was also crowned by the Academy, and that literary judgment has also been verified by the test of time. This is one of the greatest of inspirational stories. Loyal ideals, with their inspiring sentiments, are preserved through the most discouraging conditions. The building up of a little girl's life is made a fine example for every child.

Cloth, 12mo. Jacket in Colors. Price, $1.50 net

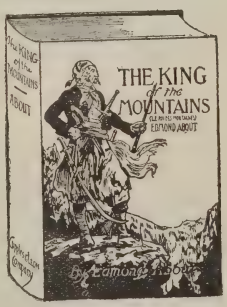
The King of the Mountains

(Le Roi des Montagnes)

By EDMOND ABOUT

Translated by Florence Crewe-Jones

Illustrated by George Avison



EDMOND ABOUT'S classic masterpiece of whimsical humor, romantic action and wild surroundings appeals to all classes and ages of readers. The lawless, happy-go-lucky bands of the Grecian Mountains, bargaining with prisoners and government officials in a kind of uncivilized traffic, affords the uncertainty in adventure which makes delightful reading for boy or man.

To be entertained by "The King of the Mountains" as a dramatic story is not enough, it is a profound study of character and life.

Cloth, 12mo. Jacket in Colors. Price, $1.50 net

Next Door Neighbors

By JOSEPHINE LAWRENCE

Illustrated by Clara M. Burd

NEXT DOOR NEIGHBORS may not always be as agreeable as they might be, but very likely more will be imagined than ever comes to pass. Adventure and fun ran a race to see which could excite these young folks the most in the things that happened to them. Boys and girls will both get laughs and thrills out of the experiences of the neighbors, and it all comes to a happy ending.

Large 12mo. Illustrated. Beautifully bound in cloth. Stamped in gold. Jacket in full colors.

The Berry Patch

By JOSEPHINE LAWRENCE

Illustrated by Thelma Gooch

THE Berry family home, with the Berry children scurrying around in it, looked well enough like a wild garden to be called the "berry-patch." The clash of personal wants, and pride in school and home show how unhappy dispositions can become lovable characters and attain admirable success.

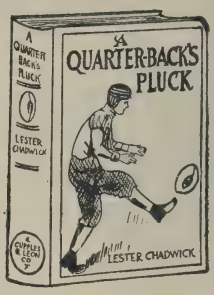
The College Sports Series

By LESTER CHADWICK

Mr. Chadwick has played on the diamond and on the gridiron himself, and has proved himself a coach of no mean ability.



12mo. Cloth. Illustrated. Colored Jacket. Price, per volume, $1.00

1. THE RIVAL PITCHERS
A Story of College Baseball

WHEN Tom Parsons came to Randall College he was looked upon by some as a mere country boy, a "hayseed." He soon showed his ability and was put on the scrub team. Another pitcher was jealous of him and did his best to keep Tom off the leading nine.

2. A QUARTERBACK'S PLUCK
A Story of College Football

OF all college and university sports football is undoubtedly king, and in this story Mr. Chadwick has risen to the occasion and told a story straight out of his own heart and one that is bound to grip the reader from the first.

3. BATTING TO WIN
A Story of College Baseball

AS before, Tom, Phil and Sid are to the front. Sid, in particular has developed into a heavy hitter, and the nine depends upon him to bring in the needed runs. Then something happens, and poor, misjudged Sid is debarred from playing.

4. THE WINNING TOUCHDOWN
A Story of College Football

FOOTBALL was a serious proposition at Randall that year. There had been the loss of several old players, and then, almost at the last moment, another good player had to be dropped. They went to work and practically reorganized the eleven, and made that glorious touchdown that won the big game.

5. FOR THE HONOR OF RANDALL
A Story of College Athletics

NOW the boys are on the track, and the winning of the hurdle race, hundred-yard dash and long-distance run are told in Mr. Chadwick's best style. There is a mystery, and a wealth of information on athletic contests.

6. THE EIGHT-OARED VICTORS
A Story of College Water Sports

ONCE more we meet the lads of Randall College. This time the scene is shifted from baseball, football and track athletics, to boating, and the particulars are given of some great aquatic races, including an eight-oared shell race of the never-to-be-forgotten variety.

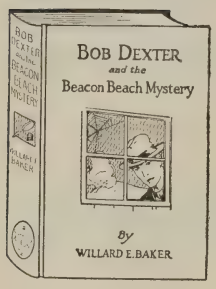
The Bob Dexter Series

By WILLARD F. BAKER

Author of "Boy Rancher Series"

12mo. Cloth. Illustrated. Colored Jacket. Price, per volume, $1.00



THIS is a new line of stories for boys, by the author of the Boy Ranchers series. The Bob Dexter books are of the character that may be called detective stories, yet they are without the objectionable features of the impossible characters and absurd situations that mark so many of the books in that class. These stories deal with the up-to-date adventures of a normal, healthy lad who has a great desire to solve mysteries, and the volumes relate in an entertaining way how he does it.

1. BOB DEXTER AND THE CLUB-HOUSE MYSTERY.

Or The Missing Golden Eagle.

THIS story tells how the Boys' Athletic Club was despoiled of its trophies in a strange manner, and how, among other things stolen, was the Golden Eagle mascot. How Bob Dexter turned himself into an amateur detective and found not only the mascot, but discovered who had taken it, makes interesting and exciting reading.

2. BOB DEXTER AND THE BEACON BEACH MYSTERY.

Or The Wreck of the Sea Hawk

WHEN Bob and his chum went to Beacon Beach for their summer vacation, they were plunged, almost at once, into a strange series of events, not the least of which was the sinking of the Sea Hawk. How some men tried to get the treasure off the sunken vessel, and how Bob and his chum foiled them, and learned how it happened that the lighthouse beacon was extinguished so often, forms the basis of this tale.

3. BOB DEXTER AND THE STORM MOUNTAIN MYSTERY.

Or The Secret of the Log Cabin

BOB DEXTER came upon a man mysteriously injured and befriended him. This led the young detective into the swirling midst of a series of strange events and into the campanionship of strange persons, not the least of whom was the man with the wooden leg. But Bob got the best of this vindictive individual, and solved the mystery of the log cabin, showing his friends how the seemingly impossible feat of a man going through a closed door was worked.

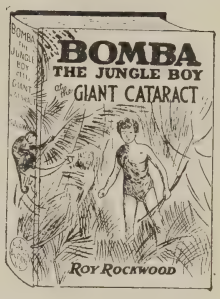
The Bomba Books

BY ROY ROCKWOOD



BOMBA lived far back in the jungles of the Amazon with a half-demented naturalist who told the lad nothing of his past. The jungle boy was a lover of birds, and hunted animals with a bow and arrow and his trusty machete. He had a primitive education in some things, and his daring adventures will be followed with breathless interest by thousands.

12mo. Cloth. Illustrated. With Colored Jacket

Price, per volume, 65 cents

1. BOMBA THE JUNGLE BOY
Or The Old Naturalist's Secret

IN this volume the reader is taken into the depth of the jungle where he meets Bomba in a life replete with thrilling situations. Once the jungle boy saves the lives of two American rubber hunters who ask him who he is. That sets Bomba to thinking. Who is he and how had he come to the jungle. He knew that he was not of the natives, for he loved the birds and the wild animals better. The old naturalist gives him a hint of his father and his mother, and Bomba sets off to solve the mystery of his identity.

2. BOMBA THE JUNGLE BOY AT THE MOVING MOUNTAIN
Or The Mystery of the Caves of Fire

BOMBA travels many miles through the jungle, with many encounters with wild beasts and hostile natives. At last he reaches the Andes and presently trails the old man of the burning mountain to his caves of fire and learns more concerning himself. Weird adventures underground.

3. BOMBA THE JUNGLE BOY AT THE GIANT CATARACT
Or Chief Nascanora and His Captives

FROM the Moving Mountain Bomba travels to the Giant Cataract, still searching out his parentage. Among the Pilati Indians he finds some white captives. He finds too, an aged woman who had at one time been a great operatic singer, and she is the first to give Bomba real news of his forebears.

The Webster Series for Boys

RUTH takes a motion picture company to Alaska, where she has some strange adventures with two sisters who are running a gold mine.

The Linger-Not Series

By AGNES MILLER

THIS new series of girls' books is in a new style of story writing. The interest is in knowing the girls and seeing them solve the problems that develop their character. Incidentally, a great deal of historical information is imparted, and a fine atmosphere of responsibility is made pleasing and useful to the reader.

12mo. Cloth. Illustrated. Jacket in full colors
Price per volume, 65 cents

1. THE LINGER-NOTS AND THE MYSTERY HOUSE

Or The Story of Nine Adventurous Girls

HOW the Linger-Not girls met and formed their club seems commonplace, but this writer makes it fascinating, and how they made their club serve a great purpose continues the interest to the end, and introduces a new type of girlhood.

2. THE LINGER-NOTS AND THE VALLEY FEUD

Or The Great West Point Chain

THE Linger-Not girls had no thought of becoming mixed up with feuds or mysteries, but their habit of being useful soon entangled them in some surprising adventures that turned out happily for all, and made the valley better because of their visit.

3. THE LINGER-NOTS AND THEIR GOLDEN QUEST

Or The Log of the Ocean Monarch

FOR a club of girls to become involved in a mystery leading back into the times of the California gold-rush, seems unnatural until the reader sees how it happened, and how the girls helped one of their friends to come into her rightful name and inheritance, forms a fine story.

4. THE LINGER-NOTS AND THE WHISPERING CHARM

Or The Secret from Old Alaska

WHETHER engrossed in thrilling adventures in the Far North or occupied with quiet home duties, the Linger-Not girls could work unitedly to solve a colorful mystery in a way that interpreted American freedom to a sad young stranger, and brought happiness to her and to themselves.

THE Curlytops fall in with a moving picture company and get in some of the pictures.

The Ruby and Ruthy Series

By MINNIE E. PAULL

HERE are two little girls of an entirely different type. Ruby is forgetful and mischievous. Ruthy is just the opposite, quiet and gentle. Everybody wondered why these two girls of entirely different temperaments could be so chummy. The stories are interesting and instructive.

12mo. Cloth. Illustrated. Price, per volume, 65 cents

1. RUBY AND RUTHY

RUBY and RUTHY were not old enough to go to school, but had many exciting adventures, that taught many useful lessons needed to be learned by little girls.

2. RUBY'S UPS AND DOWNS

THERE were troubles enough for a dozen grown-ups, but Ruby got ahead of them all, and, in spite of them, became a favorite in the lively times at school.

3. RUBY AT SCHOOL

RUBY had many surprises when she went to the impossible place she heard called a boarding school, but every experience helped to make her a stronger-minded girl.

4. RUBY'S VACATION

THIS volume shows how a little girl improves by having varieties of experience both happy and unhappy, provided she thinks, and is able to use her good sense.

Four Little Blossoms Series

By MABEL C. HAWLEY

12mo. Cloth. Illustrated. Jacket in full colors

Price, per volume, 65 cents

1. FOUR LITTLE BLOSSOMS AT BROOKSIDE FARM

MOTHER called them her Four Little Blossoms, but Daddy Blossom called them Bobby, Meg, and the twins. The children had heaps of fun around the big farm.

2. FOUR LITTLE BLOSSOMS AT OAK HILL SCHOOL

IN the Fall, Bobby and Meg had to go to school. Then the twins insisted on going to school, too, and their appearance quite upset the class. In school something very odd happened.

3. FOUR LITTLE BLOSSOMS AND THEIR WINTER FUN

WINTER came and with it lots of ice and snow, and oh! what fun the Blossoms had skating and sledding. And once Bobby and Meg went on an errand and got lost in a sudden snowstorm.

4. FOUR LITTLE BLOSSOMS ON APPLE TREE ISLAND

THE Four Little Blossoms went to a beautiful island in the middle of a big lake and there had a grand time on the water and in the woods.

5. FOUR LITTLE BLOSSOMS THROUGH THE HOLIDAYS

THE story starts at Thanksgiving. They went skating and coasting, and they built a wonderful snowman, and one day Bobby and his chums visited a carpenter shop on the sly, and that night the shop burnt down, and there was trouble for the boys.

Bedtime Wonder Tales

By CLIFTON JOHNSON

Illustrated by Harry L. Smith

THE BOOKS in this series are made up of favorite stories from the folklore of all nations. As here told, they are free from the distressing and excessive details which mar many of the tales in the form that they have come down to us from a barbaric past. There has been, however, no sacrifice of the simplicity, humor and sweetness, that gives them everlasting charm.

JOHN DAY

Announces the publication of a first list of books in the fall of 1926. The first of the John Day publications, to be issued on September 1, will be

THE MUSIC FROM BEHIND THE MOON

by James Branch Cabell

With eight full page illustrations from wood engravings by LEON UNDERWOOD

The tale of Madoc of Netan and in part of the pallid witch Ettarre—a tale which epitomizes certain aspects of the life of every man and defines implicitly a philosophy which finds expression in all of Mr. Cabell's books.

Quarto boards, boxed. Sixty-four pages. Printed on handmade paper from Garamond type set by hand by William Edwin Rudge. Edition limited to three thousand copies. Price $6.00 net.

On the two following pages other JOHN DAY books are described.

JOHN DAY

to be published on September 3

LESS THAN KIN

by Charles Caldwell Dobie

The first novel in five years from the pen of a writer whose short stories are regarded as among the most distinguished in their field. Less than Kin is a romantic novel of the present day, laid in part in San Francisco, in part in the California hills, and centering about a group of persons whose fortunes are dominated by a woman; the infamous Selina Parsons, a character whose prototype was a notorious figure in California social history.

12*mo*. Cloth. About 400 pages. $2.00 net.

MY HERESIES

by Bishop William Montgomery Brown

Bishop Brown, whose recent trial for heresy by the Protestant Episcopal Bishops aroused a storm of controversy, here tells without rancor the story of his life and of the ecclesiastical tragi-comedy in which he played the leading part. It is, in the author's words, "the autobiography of an idea"; more than this, it is the portrait of a man whose personality and ideas are among the most interesting of our time. The book contains an analysis of the author's present beliefs—a new declaration of faith that is a challenge to every creed.

12*mo*. Cloth. About 300 pages. $2.00 net.

THAT LAST INFIRMITY

by Charles Brackett

Mr. Brackett, whose "Week-End" was widely applauded last year, has written a full length novel dealing with a neglected aspect of the social comedy. Mrs. McCarthy and her brood of lovely daughters should be among the most welcome of the season's debutantes. The story of their triumphs in America, Paris and London constitutes the epic of a social climber.

12*mo*. Cloth. About 320 pages. $2.00 net.

To be published October 1

THE BLACK ANGELS

by Maud Hart Lovelace

The Black Angels are a crew of laughing, singing vagabonds who set forth in an ox-drawn covered wagon to make their fortunes as a concert troupe. Their adventures, their lives, their growth to middle age, form the main current of a novel which furnishes a singularly vivid picture of life in Minnesota from the '60's to the '80's. The Black Angels is Mrs. Lovelace's first novel.

12*mo*. Cloth. About 320 pages. $2.00 net.

THE PEOPLE NEXT DOOR

by George Creel

An interpretive history of Mexico and the Mexican people, from the beginnings of Aztec civilization to the present day. Mr. Creel takes a highly controversial position toward many aspects of Mexican-American foreign relations during the past century. He defends the annexation of Texas, refutes the charge that the Mexican War was an unwarranted attack by the United States upon a weaker nation and bitterly arraigns the Taft administration for its conduct of Mexican affairs. The book offers a new view of many events in Mexican history, based upon wide research and first-hand knowledge of the country.

8*vo*. Cloth. With maps. 450 pages. Probable price $4.00 net.

NEW SCHOOLS IN THE OLD WORLD

by Carleton Washburne and Myron M. Stearns

A study of the work that is being done in twelve modern European schools to solve various of the most pressing educational problems of today. Dr. Washburne, who is Superintendent of Schools in Winnetka, Ill., is a leader in the fight for progressive education in this country and a widely known writer upon educational subjects.

12*mo*. Cloth. About 200 pages. Probable price $1.75 net.

How to Put on an Amateur Circus

By FRED A. HACKER and PRESCOTT W. EAMES. This book is the outgrowth of numerous circuses conducted by the authors for schools, clubs, public playgrounds and on junior Chautauqua circuits. It tells just how to plan and organize the show, how to construct the "animals" and other equipment, describes all kinds of animal and acrobatic acts and clown stunts, gives complete instructions for the big show, the side shows, the parade, how to make up, etc., and how to produce the circus either in a tent or in a school gymnasium or auditorium. It is not merely a book of suggestions, but gives detailed instructions for every step of the preparation and presentation of a juvenile circus. The construction work is explained in detail, with numerous working drawings. The text is accompanied by over sixty diagrams, working drawings, sketches and photographs.

Attractive board binding with cover in four colors. Price, Postpaid, $1.75

INTERNATIONAL ENCYCLOPÆDIA, THE NEW — Edited by FRANK MOORE COLBY, M. A., and TALCOTT WILLIAMS, LL.D., L.H.D., Litt.D. Assisted by nearly 500 editors and contributors.

Published in two forms. Regular Edition, 25 volumes, Green Cloth, $156.00, Red Library Buckram, $168.00, Black Full Leather, $230.00. Popular-Priced Edition, 13 volumes, identical as to contents with the 25 volume edition, bound in green cloth only, price $105.00. Sold on easy monthly payments, or less 5% for cash in full.

Comprises 80,000 articles, 800 full page illustrations, of which 100 are in color, numerous text cuts. 200 maps in color forming a complete gazetteer of the world. Every article in THE NEW INTERNATIONAL ENCYCLOPAEDIA has been especially written for it. The articles are alphabetically arranged, making an index unnecessary. Unusual title words are pronounced and derivations given. Guide to pronunciation in each volume. Each set contains Courses of Reading and Study covering principal departments of knowledge. Important articles supplemented by splendid bibliographies. An American work written from an American viewpoint, but thoroughly international in scope and character. The statements are clear, succinct, authoritative and impartial. Definite and accurate information is given which it is only now possible to collect. The aim has been to include every topic in the developing history of human knowledge which could by any chance be of interest to the professional man, student or general reader.

INTERNATIONAL YEAR BOOK, THE NEW—A compendium of the world's progress in every department of human knowledge. A special volume, published in May of each year, beginning with 1907. Invaluable to libraries, colleges and schools. For full particulars address Subscription Department.

THE BATTLEFIELDS OF SCOTLAND, THEIR LEGEND AND STORY

In this volume the author tells the story of the battlefields of Scotland. He describes the scenes which witnessed the long and bitter struggle for national, and afterward for religious, freedom; and finally, the romantic but disastrous Jacobite attempt on behalf of the ancient Stuarts. References are given, drawn from the best authorities and from original sources.

SONNETS FROM THE PORTUGUESE. ROYAL EDITION

Illustrated from photographic studies by Adelaide Hanscom. Painted by C. J. White and reproduced in full colors by color-photogravure printing.

This edition is certain to attract wide attention. Miss Hanscom, so well known as the illustrator of the Oriental Rubaiyat done in photogravure, requires no introduction to book lovers. The beautiful color painting of these illustrations by Mr. White will place the Royal Edition of the "Sonnets from the Portuguese" alongside of our famous "Royal Rubaiyat"—an achievement in itself. This edition is printed on excellent book paper with twenty plates in color. A real gift for real book lovers.

CARSON, WILLIAM E.

NORTHCLIFFE: BRITAIN'S MAN OF POWER

"There is not one page in "Northcliffe: Britain's Man of Power" that is not in one sense or another a valuable contribution to the history of our time.

"Mr. Carson has done his work well. His book will remain a notable one. So far Lord Northcliffe stands alone. His broad vision of journalism, his bold daring, his phenomenal keenness, combined with an intelligent respect for standards and enlightened patriotism, make of him a unique personality in which may be found the very triumph of individualism."—The Public Ledger, Philadelphia.

COOKE, EDMUND VANCE

COMPLETE WORKS

Just Then Something Happened! A story for Children. Cloth, $1.50 Net

"It is a sort of Baron Munchausen, Sinbad the Sailor and Alice in Wonderland all rolled together. The youngster who likes invention, thrilling situations, unlooked-for ways of escape and a delicious foolishness as a background for it all, will find them here a-plenty. Mr. Cooke's inventiveness is only equalled by his humor and wit. From the juvenile point of view, he is a crackajack of a story-teller."

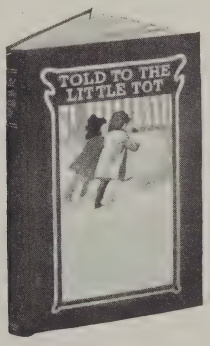
COOKE, EDMUND VANCE— (Continued)

The Story Club. Stories for Children.
Cloth, $1.75 Net

There are no less than forty-four bright, new, interesting stories for children within the covers of this book. Any child of six years to sixteen will understand and enjoy them. "The Vinegator," "The Gassowary," "The Cave of the Eater-cow," "The Little, Lame Angel," are some of the titles. The book is fully illustrated in colors.

Told to the Little Tot. Stories for Children.
Cloth, $1.75 Net

Here is a book of stories for the little folks, beautifully illustrated by Bessie Collins Pease. "The best written of all the books for quite small children," says the The Los Angeles Times, and parents who think enough of their children to give them real books of well-told stories, amusing and adapted to their infant minds, will want to know this book.



Chronicles of the Little Tot. Poems about Children. Cloth, $1.75 Net

Edward Howard Griggs and other eminent critics hailed this volume as being equal to the child poems of Stevenson, Riley and Field, and the New York American added, "There is a spontaneity to the humor, a touching realism to the pathos and a pervasive beauty in the sentiments, that raise this collection of Mr. Cooke's verses to heights seldom attained, even by the poets referred to."

I Rule the House. Poems about Children.
Cloth, $1.50 Net

Of this second book of child verse, it is enough to say that it fully equals "Chronicles of the Little Tot" in its content. "The Sin of the Coppenter Man," "The Conqueror," "When Comp'ny Comes," "The Little Boy Snake," "The Monkey Man," "The Cooky Moon," "The Geographic Child" are a few of the poems of this book which are known and loved wherever there are children.

Impertinent Poems. Poems Men Like.
Cloth, $1.75 Net

"Impertinent Poems" with their keen insight into human nature, their colloquial habit of speech, their ingenious metricism and their whimsical sympathy established a new school of verse-making. Contains "How Did You Die," "Let's Be Glad We Are Living," etc.

Little Songs for Two. Love Poems.
Cloth, $1.50 Net

These are love lyrics, of course. "Forty-one delicious, finely sentimental poems written in inimitable style," says the Portland Oregonian, and the San Francisco Call adds that they are "As exquisite as any of the work upon which he has built his reputation." This is an ideal gift book for lovers of all ages.

Rimes to be Read. Miscellaneous Poems.
Cloth, $1.75 Net

This book contains a wide variety of story-poems and character-sketches, ranging from the foolery of "The Young Man Waited," the satire of "The Other One Was Booth," and the keenness of "Fin de Siecle" to the tense dramatic interest of "Connor McCarthy," causing Thomas E. Watson to exclaim in a magazine review, "Did Bryant or Whittier or Lowell write verses better than these?"

The Uncommon Commoner and similar songs of democracy. Cloth, $1.75 Net

"Since Whitman there has been no other poet who so surely gripped the vital things of democracy," says Secretary of War Baker. "Most of the lessons which the world is now learning will be found simply and winsomely told in this volume." William Allen White commends the "straight-from-the-shoulder" style, and Brand Whitlock expresses his debt of gratitude for the poems, which he says he owes "in common with all Americans."

HEROIC LEGENDS

This handsome volume contains a capital collection of grand old legends, such as the tales of "St. George and the Dragon," "Valentine and Orson," "Charlemagne and the Charcoal Burner," "Richard and Blondel," etc., which all children should know as they know "Jack the Giant-killer" and "Red Riding Hood. Miss Herbertson is in complete sympathy with the old legends, and tells them in a way that will charm young people; and Helen Stratton's beautiful illustrations are instinct with the spirit of old romance. 16 colored plates.

Photographic Illustrations

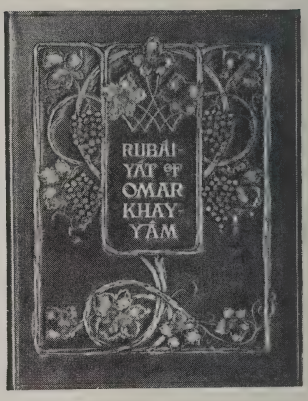
Blanche Cummings
With Border Designs and Decorations



This edition has been pronounced by critics to be one of the most remarkable examples of photographic art ever presented to the public, and is certain to attract wide attention.

The artists have had the assistance and advice of Dr. Orlof Orlow in arranging the costumes. Among the well-known persons who may be recognized are Joaquim Miller, George Wharton James, George Sterling, and Professor Charles Keeler, who posed as models, lending much to the value of the work by their thoughtful interpretation of the verses.

The San Francisco Chronicle says: "A new edition of the Rubaiyat of Omar Khayyam has appeared, illustrated with photographs which are a revelation of the value of photographic art for illustrating books. The careful attention to the smallest details of Persian symbolism in the costumes and attitudes of the models and the manner in which the artists have caught the spirit of the whole poem are highly praiseworthy, and show a great amount of careful artistic work. The artists were greatly assisted by friends, who volunteered to pose as models for the photographs. All of the border designs for the pages were also executed by Miss Hanscom and Miss Cummings. The illustrations in duo-tone are printed on fine plate paper. Each illustration is set in a panel. This edition is one of the noteworthy holiday books of the season and is worth the attention of anyone who is looking for a gift that is out of the usual."

RANDALL, JOHN HERMAN

THE ESSENCE OF DEMOCRACY

Democracy is the great word of the hour. Never before has this great word dominated so largely the world's thinking. When President Wilson set forth his reasons for the entrance of the United States into the world's greatest conflict, summing it all up in that new classic phrase "to make the world safe for Democracy," he established it forever as the practical ideal for human striving the whole world round.

Dr. Randall here sets forth that Democracy will be glorious or inglorious according to the content we put in the great word; if it means nothing more than the politicians say it means then it is a futile thing. In his usual convincing manner he shows that real Democracy is a thing of the inner life, and must not only be a belief, but an experience.

THE PHILOSOPHY OF POWER OR WHAT TO LIVE FOR

The demand of the 20th century is not so much for new beliefs as for actual knowledge. While there will always be a place in human life for speculative thought and as long as one thinks at all for one's self, he must formulate some philosophy of life, still what every man must live by is the knowledge born out of actual experience. With the crumbling of the old traditional creeds, there will continue to come ever new and fresh restatements of the basic truths of life. But the need of the hour is for a formulation of the practical principles which everyday experience has demonstrated to be most effective in bringing life to the fullness of all its latent powers.

In his new book, "The Philosophy of Power," Dr. Randall attempts such a formulation of principles, apart from all doctrinal questions of speculative interest. It might be regarded as the Creed of the practical man who cares little about theology or dogma, and yet who is conscious of a need of some practical working philosophy for life.

THE LIFE OF REALITY

In these days of great personal perplexities, and gigantic world-problems, every thoughtful man and woman is earnestly bent upon the search for reality. Out of the din of conflicting voices, out of the chaotic confusion of clashing opinions, one question emerges supreme over all. Amid all the deceptive appearances of life and in spite of life's disillusionments, is there such a thing as Reality, to which our human gropings may lead? Can it be found and experienced in the daily storm and stress of life, and if so, what is the pathway by which man may approach and live "the life that is life indeed"?

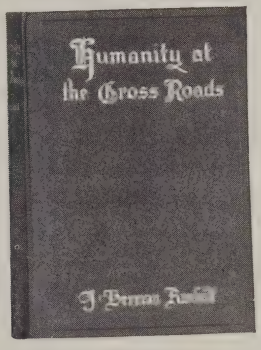
Dr. Randall firmly believes that such a real life is possible to every man, and in the chapters of this book he seeks to point out the sources and nature of that Reality for which, since the world began, every soul has been searching either consciously or unconsciously, the various paths of experience through which one moves toward the great discovery, and the resulting freedom and power in the life of the individual, who has attained the soul's supreme quest.

5¼ x 7½. Cloth, $2.00 Net



HUMANITY AT THE CROSS-ROADS

The writer believes that the true ideals of any people grow out of its actual philosophy of life and its conception of religion. Organized religion to-day has failed to grasp the significance of the new truth and seems powerless to furnish the vital forms of expression through which the resurging life shall find adequate and living manifestation. Can religion regain its lost leadership and give to the world the great ethical and spiritual dynamic demanded in the new age now dawning?

A NEW PHILOSOPHY OF LIFE

It is the hope of the author that the philosophy of life herein set forth may tend, for some minds at least, to bring Science and Religion into closer harmony, and help to throw new light upon the pathway that leads to fullness of Peace and Power.

5¼ x 7½. Cloth, $2.00 Net

THE IRREPRESSIBLE CONFLICT IN RELIGION

In this his latest book Dr. Randall has taken up the problem of the fundamentalist-modernist controversy, which has come to such open and almost violent expression in the past few years.

The outstanding and underlying causes of the controversy are traced from the Protestant Reformation down through the ages to the World War and the present widespread knowledge and application of scientific methods and ideas.

Dr. Randall has in his own inimitable style laid down and laid open the facts of the case. He points out the permanent irrepressibility of the differences between the two parties which hold such opposing views within the same religion, and takes the position that none of the questions that are so hotly debated today go to the heart of religion but only represent the imperfect rationalization about religion.

There has been no glozing over the points of differences in the controversy by the author, and they are presented with an utter lack of bitterness or prejudice. Dr. Randall has written a book which will have a wide appeal, and will prove of great interest to both the layman and the student, because of the timely subject matter, together with his capable and agreeable style of writing.

An inspiring essay on the blessings of life and the beautiful world in which we live, to which are added strong essays on The Troubles of Life, Labor and Rest, Religion, The Hope of Progress, etc.

CHRISTMAS CAROL. By Chas. Dickens.

This familiar story possesses perennial interest for young and old. Whether regarded as a ghost story, a character study, or a parable, the "Christmas Carol" is one of the most brilliant tales in English literature.

CORSAIR AND LARA. By Lord Byron. With an introduction by M. F. Sweetser.

The extraordinary interest at the present time in Byron demands that two of his complete works be presented in this series. No better understanding of this "wild child of nature" can be obtained than in Corsair and Lara.

COURTSHIP OF MILES STANDISH. By Henry Wadsworth Longfellow.

The incident on which the story of The Courtship of Miles Standish is based was a tradition in the family of the author and is a good portrayal of early colonial life.

DESTRUCTION OF POMPEII. By Pliny and Bulwer.

Two interesting descriptions of the Destruction of Pompeii: one by Pliny, the greatest scientist of the ancient world, who wrote as an eye-witness.

DISCOURSES OF EPICTETUS. Selections.

In Sir John Lubbock's "List of the One Hundred Best Books," the Bible is first, the "Thoughts of Marcus Aurelius" second, and "Epictetus" third.

ELEGY AND OTHER POEMS. By Thomas Gray.

The "Elegy in a Country Churchyard" occupies as secure a place among English classics as "Hamlet" or "Paradise Lost," but some readers may not realize that several poems by Gray are equally perfect and impressive. This collection contains all of Gray's verse which is really worth knowing.

ENOCH ARDEN. By Alfred, Lord Tennyson.

In "Enoch Arden" we have one of the most beautiful and pathetic poems in the English language. Had Tennyson never written another line, he would have gone down in history as one of the greatest poets of his time.

EVANGELINE. By Henry Wadsworth Longfellow.

The purity, sweetness and refinement with which Longfellow delineates the affections of the heart make his poetry the most welcome of visitants at the domestic fireside, and of all his poems, "Evangeline" is probably the most popular.

FRIENDSHIP AND LOVE. By Ralph Waldo Emerson.

Mr. Emerson is no bookish theorist. He does not draw his conclusions from syllogisms, but from his personal observations of men and things.

GOLD BUG. By Edgar Allan Poe. With a biographical sketch of the author.

A story of great effect and absorbing interest, one of those rare books that once opened is not closed until the last paragraph is finished.

GOLDEN THOUGHTS. By Fenelon.

Judiciously made extracts from the letters of the great archbishop. Fenelon united in his personality the sweetness of the saint with the strength of the reformer, and his personal correspondence contains the very heart and soul of religious devotion.

GOLDEN WINGS. A Prose Romance and a Poem. By William Morris.

Two early productions of Morris's with the same title. The Prose Romance, written in 1856, while still a student at Oxford, and the Poem, two years later, both of which show the irresistible and quaint charm apparent in all the later writings of this architect, painter, designer, craftsman, socialist and author—who, on the death of Tennyson, was thought by many would be the next Poet Laureate.

HEROISM AND CHARACTER. By Ralph Waldo Emerson.

As Friendship and Love are linked, so Heroism and Character are complementary. In fact, we perceive a strong connection between the four subjects.

HOLY GRAIL. By Alfred, Lord Tennyson.

This idyl, which must rank as one of the greatest of Tennyson's poetical achievements, came to him suddenly, "as if by a breath of inspiration."

KING OF THE GOLDEN RIVER. By John Ruskin.

"The King of the Golden River" was written in 1841, at the request of a very young lady, and solely for her amusement, without any idea of publication. Later, with the passive assent of Ruskin, the charming allegory was publicly printed, and literature is thereby the gainer of this most pleasing little work.

L'ARLESIENNE. By Alphonse Daudet. With a biographical sketch by M. F. Sweetser.

L'Arlesienne is the best of Daudet's dramas, and is responsible for his fame as a playwright as well as a novelist.

LADY MONTAGU. Selected Letters.

Lady Mary Montagu, who lived from 1690 to 1762, derived her marvellous literary talents from her relationship to Henry Fielding, the novelist, and Sir John Evelyn, the diarist.

LEAVES OF GRASS. Selections. By Walt Whitman.

Walt Whitman is looked upon as the one distinctive American poet, the product of our New World democracy. Though perhaps lacking in grace, his poems are inspired by his enthusiasm and humanitarianism, and in every line the reader sees the personality of the poet—noble, generous and lofty—a great man in the highest sense of the word.

LETTERS TO A YOUNG MAN ABOUT TOWN. By William Makepeace Thackeray.

These charming but comparatively little known essays originally appeared in Punch, and, until the present edition, have been reissued in a volume by themselves but once, and then in a privately printed book now extremely rare. In his humorous and satirical manner, Thackeray shows up the follies and life of a young man about town in the middle of the nineteenth century.

LITTLE BOOK OF GERMAN WISDOM. Collected by Rev. Claude Field, M.A.

A choice collection of epigrams, quotations, etc., from the famous German statesmen, authors, etc.

LORD CHESTERFIELD'S LETTERS. Selections.

These letters of sound counsel and practical advice, addressed to his son, Philip, are what Lord Chesterfield's reputation rests upon, and it is through these that the name of Chesterfield has become symbolic of culture and refinement.

LOVE LETTERS OF A VIOLINIST. By Eric Mackay.

Originally published in England, with the name of the author suppressed, these charming love sonnets created much discussion as to authorship, some even claiming they were the work of Swinburne—from whom only it seemed could originate the fertility of thought, grace of language, ingenuity, skill in the ars poetica, wealth of words, and classic resources.

MANON LESCAUT. Vol. I. By L'Abbé Prévost. With an introduction by M. F. Sweetser.

MANON LESCAUT. Vol. II.

Not only in French, but in the emotional literature of our world has Manon Lescaut taken a classical place, and is a profound lesson drawn from weakness of human nature.

MAN WITHOUT A COUNTRY. By Edward Everett Hale.

Written to foster patriotism during the Civil War, "The Man Without a Country" still holds to-day as large a claim as ever on the English-reading public.

MEN AND WOMEN. By Robert Browning.

Browning is known the world over for his deep-veined humanity and rare faculty of dramatic representation. These poems have as much red blood in them as the dramas of Shakespeare. The present volume contains all the principal favorites which have sung themselves into the memory of every reader who loves vigorous, manly poetry.

MILTON. By Lord Macaulay.

A profound and masterly essay on the leader of English literature of the seventeenth century by the leading literary critic of the nineteenth century.

PASSION IN THE DESERT, AND AN EPISODE IN THE REIGN OF TERROR. Selected Prose Works of Honore de Balzac.

Balzac is thought by many competent authorities to be the greatest novelist of the world. His short stories are quite as remarkable in their way as his longer stories, and the very best of them are to be found in the present collection.

POEMS OF SENTIMENT. By Byron.

Probably no poet in the English-speaking world has ever held as high and well recognized a position as a "sentimentalist" as George Gordon, Lord Byron. His master lyrics dealing with the subject of love, consisting principally of his shorter poems, have been selected and edited with the greatest care for this edition.

POOR RICHARD'S ALMANAC. By Benjamin Franklin.

A selection of the best sayings from the numerous issues of "Poor Richard." Helpful and inspiring; the work of a most practical mind, written for a most practical nation.

RAB AND HIS FRIENDS. By Dr. John Brown.

"Rab and His Friends," a story of a mastiff, full of beauty and pathos. In this volume the story of Marjorie Fleming, an interesting case of remarkable precociousness, is also published.

RECESSIONAL AND OTHER VERSES. By Rudyard Kipling.

Including all of the Departmental Ditties.

RIP VAN WINKLE AND THE LEGEND OF SLEEPY HOLLOW. By Washington Irving.

These immortal stories of Dutch life in colonial New York are the best pieces of writing that Mr. Irving contributed to literature. The pathos, quaintness, and wit are impressed upon the reader in a striking way.

ROCHEFOUCAULD'S MAXIMS.

These maxims, written by a cavalier of Richelieu's time, one who knew the world as few have an opportunity of knowing it, are witty, subtle and true. The author has grasped the whole of life, and weakness of human nature, of fashion and conventionalities are strongly depicted.

RUBAIYAT OF OMAR KHAYYAM.

The "Rubaiyat of Omar Khayyam" is one of the greatest contributions that the East has given to literature. The subtle thought, the soft Oriental imagery, and the delicacy of the poetry will appeal to the poetic imagination of all ages.

SALOME. By Oscar Wilde.

Originally published in French, "Salome" was translated into English the following year, and since then translations have appeared in Spanish, Swedish, German, Polish and Russian, showing the truth of the German statement that to-day Oscar Wilde is a "World's Poet" and "Salome" a "World's Play."

SCHOOL FOR SCANDAL. By Sheridan.

Sheridan's comedies are second only to Shakespeare's. "The School for Scandal" undoubtedly his masterpiece, has had an undiminished popularity from the moment it was published to the present day.

SELECTED POEMS. By John Boyle O'Reilly.

Through several causes, but not lack of merit, Boyle O'Reilly is fast becoming merely a name to the generation of to-day. Therefore, pains have here been taken to perpetuate the choicest productions of his pen—poems worthy of rank with the masterpieces of English literature.

SIR ROGER DE COVERLEY PAPERS. By Addison.

The famous "Sir Roger de Coverley Papers" are not only treasured by all students of English literature, but by historians as well. For nowhere do we find a finer description of English life in the eighteenth century than in these papers. Furthermore, in the character of Sir Roger we find the finest delineation in English literature of an ideal gentleman.

SHE STOOPS TO CONQUER. By Oliver Goldsmith.

"She Stoops to Conquer" is a comedy abounding in the keenest wit and satire. Human nature is depicted by a masterly observer, and the characters of the play are true to life.

SKETCHES OF YOUNG COUPLES. By Charles Dickens.

Some of the earlier sketches of the immortal Dickens, in which, however, are seen the clear and wonderful characterizations unequaled by any other modern author, and even unsurpassed in his later and better known works. His people live before you.

SNOW-BOUND. By John Greenleaf Whittier.

"Snow-bound" may fairly be said to sum up Whittier's personal experience, and yet so absolutely free is it from egotism that it has taken its place as the representative poem of New England country life.

SOME FRUITS OF SOLITUDE. Reflections and Maxims. By William Penn.

"To quote a book like this were impossible; at least one can hand it on, with a wrench, one to another. Some of the 'Fruits' are sounder, juicier, and grown against a sunnier wall of experience than others, but all are delicate, and the little basket which holds them will be found in all times and places a peaceful and sweet companion."—Robert Louis Stevenson.

SONNETS FROM THE PORTUGUESE. By Elizabeth Barrett Browning.

In the "Sonnets from the Portuguese," a most exquisite series of love poems, we have Mrs. Browning at her best, and in sentiment and lofty rhyme she is at times truly Shakespearian.

SWEETNESS AND LIGHT. By Matthew Arnold.

An epoch-making essay, by one of the most cultured, practical and inspiring minds of our century.

TALES OF A WAYSIDE INN. By Henry Wadsworth Longfellow.

Containing some of the best of his shorter poems, the first part of which was brought out in 1863, and which met with immediate success.

THOUGHTS OF MARCUS AURELIUS. Selections.

Marcus Aurelius was the purest and loftiest of the pagan philosophers. "His great work, 'The Thoughts,'" says Lecky, "not only forms one of the most impressive, but also forms one of the truest books in the whole range of religious literature."

UNDINE. By Baron Friedrich de la Motte-Fouque.

The charming and graceful narrative, Undine, is a gem in German literature. It breathes of the fresh fragrance of the woods, and is animated by beautiful thoughts that people the sea and air with nymphs and spirits.

THE VALUE OF TIME AND OTHER ESSAYS. By Sir John Lubbock.

Further maxims and conclusions of a great and wise optimist as well as a thoroughly modern thinker and teacher.

VAMPIRE AND OTHER VERSES. By Rudyard Kipling.

Including all of the Barrack Room Ballads.

VIRGINIBUS PUERISQUE. By Robert Louis Stevenson.

It is refreshing to find a work for boys and girls written by a man of genius, "Virginibus Puerisque" stands high among Mr. Stevenson's writings, and is enjoyed by both old and young.

VISION OF SIR LAUNFAL. By James Russell Lowell.

This great poem is drawn from the famous romance of King Arthur and the Holy Grail, a theme which has furnished inspiration to so many great minds. The "Vision of Sir Launfal" is the best of Lowell's shorter poems.

WERTHER. By J. W. von Goethe. With a biographical sketch of the author.

To appreciate the romantic and sentimental nature of the mighty Goethe one must read Werther. Though o'ershadowed by the author's other works, yet Werther alone would have made him immortal.

WILL O' THE MILL AND BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH. By R. L. Stevenson.

This little parable of a life contains a wonderful moral and is also an irresistibly fascinating story in itself, written in the most exquisite English. Many critics think it Stevenson's masterpiece.

WIT AND WISDOM. By Sidney Smith.

Extracts from Smith's writing and conversations which flash with repartee, good-tempered satire, and wit. The comments on America and Americans are alone worth the price of the little book.

STRENUOUS EPIGRAMS OF THEODORE ROOSEVELT

The great charm of Colonel Roosevelt's writings and speeches was his peculiar faculty of saying much in a few words, in the "Strenuous Epigrams" the editor has taken pains to bring together his brightest and most forcible sayings which have occurred in his speeches during the years when Colonel Roosevelt was so prominently before the public. His famous eulogistic speech on McKinley is included in this book, besides a short sketch of his life.

A GUIDE TO MEN

Prelude by Fannie Hurst.

This is Helen Rowland's newest and best book—a masterpiece of flashing satire. Whoever reads this keen, humorous "Guide" will know all that there is to know about the Old Adam—and all the younger ones as well. The author has the astonishing faculty of being able to turn the creature, man, inside out like an old coat, so that all his seams are visible, and what is more, she does it in such a delightful way, that he does not mind at all! Printed in two colors, with eight full-page illustrations. Border decorations and end papers by Harold Speakman.

WEST OF THE MOON

By Anna Robeson Burr

Almost everybody who appreciates really fine fiction knows of the novels of Anna Robeson Burr. To be sure her first three successful books appeared anonymously. They were "The House on Charles Street," "The House on Smith Square," and "The Great House in the Park." Then, under her revealed name, she wrote "St. Helios," that captivating story of the late Victorian era. Her newest book is said to be written with all the charm and skill which has characterized her other novels, but in a more fantastic vein. $2.50

THE BLOOD OF KINGS

By Reginald Wright Kauffman

There isn't a page in this rollicking romance without its thrill. There isn't a moment that its dashing young hero isn't getting into or out of trouble. It's a Zenda sort of a story. Zenda with added zest. In a strange little foreign restaurant down near the Battery, in New York,—there the first excitement begins. And it never ends until the American hero succeeds in winning his ravishing princess from a strange, ceremonial, bitter and conniving Old World court. This is romance with a capital R, by an acknowledged teller of capital stories. $2.00

THE AUTUMN SAINT

By Maude Hudnut Chapin

Kiri is that rare child whose grave seriousness and odd humors make us want to laugh and weep at the same time. When she arrives from France, to romp through the sanctum of old Stephen Beazley in his forest at Wick End,—the foundations of his ivory tower are shaken for the first time. A story of three loves:—the child's reaching out for the affection of her uncle; his absorbing love for the ancient wood; and most of all, the meaning of the forest to both of them. A book of unforgettable charm. $2.00

TWELVE MODERN APOSTLES AND THEIR CREED

Twelve of the most outspoken confessions by men who govern the church here and abroad, together with articles by the laiety. The contributors to this remarkable symposium are: Dr. Edgar Young Mullins (Baptist); Gilbert K. Chesterton (Catholic); Clifford Smith (Christian Science); Dr. Charles E. Jefferson (Congregationalist); Bishop Charles L. Slattery (Episcopalian); Dr. Nathan Soderblom, Primate of Sweden (Lutheran); Senator Reed Smoot (Mormon); Dr. Henry Sloan Coffin (Presbyterian); Dr. Rufus Jones (Quaker); Dr. Frank M. North (Methodist); Dr. Samuel McChord Crothers, (Unitarian); and Carl Van Doren (Agnostic). $2.50

CORSICA: The Surprising Island
By Hildegarde Hawthorne

The grand-daughter of Nathaniel Hawthorne, and by her own right a writer of note, after an extended sojourn in the Mediterranean, has written an intriguing travel account of Napoleon's island home. Her delightful description of the country, the people and quaint customs are supplemented by 16 charming illustrations and a special frontispiece. A book invaluable to the traveller and a delight to the stay-at-homes.

Probable price, $3.00

FOOTBALL: For Players and Spectators
By William H. Roper

"Bill" Roper (as he is affectionately known), the famous Princeton football coach, has written an untechnical volume on America's great game—a volume equally valuable to the player and those who look on, and would understand the game. The up-to-the-minute text is thoroughly illustrated with action pictures of both amateur and professional players, and diagrams explaining the modern gridiron battle and its future possibilities.

Probable price, $2.50

THE SWEET SCIENCE
By Trevor Wignall

Mr. Wignall is an authority on the boxing game, professional and amateur. He has written a masterly resume of modern ring history and its leading exponents. The author has observed and known most of the prominent pugilists from Sullivan to Dempsey, and his accounts of the various battlers are both illuminating and amusing. Illustrated.

Probable price, $3.50

FOUR TIMES ONCE UPON A TIME

By Margaret and Mary Baker

The Bakers, inventors of charming and unusual books for children, need no introduction. This new one is perhaps the most novel book for little folks presented in many years. The illustrations, as before are in silhouette, but this time printed against backgrounds of four alternate colors. Other Baker books are "The Black Cats and the Tinker's Wife," "The Dog, The Brownie and the Bramble Patch," "The Little Girl Who Curtsied," and "Pedlar's Ware." 7x8¼ inches. Cover in four colors. $3.00

BUMPY-BOBS: The Pink Hippo

By Jack Roberts

Do you remember "The Wonderful Adventures of Ludo, the Little Green Duck?" This gay and fresh tale of the Pink Hippo is just as amusing and really more delightful in color. It is printed and bound in Paris, by A. Tolmer, the famous firm which did "The Little Green Duck" and "Little Fairy Sleepy-Eyes."

Probable price, $1.50

LITTLE MARY MIXUP IN FAIRYLAND

By R. M. Brinkerhoff

For years Brinkerhoff's amusing strip of "Little Mary Mixup" has been daily delighting thousands in the New York World, and other syndicated papers, the country over. Here is the same "Little Mary" and her adventures among the fairies. Black and white pictures run through the text and there is a ravishing jacket in full color. Probable price, $2.00

MAYBE TRUE STORIES

By Hildegarde Hawthorne. Illustrated by Harold Sichel.

A charming book of Fairy Tales, in which the delightful twins are taken to the Land of Laughter, the Land of Rain and many other interesting lands. A book of delicious humor and delicate fantasy. Illustrated. Probable price, $2.00

New Editions:

THE SANDGATE EDITION OF H. G. WELLS

This new edition contains three of Mr. Wells' most popular novels: "Tono-Bungay," "The New Machiavelli" and "Marriage." Probable price, each, $2.50

THE BOOK OF TEA

By Okakura-Kakuzo, 11th edition, with an Introduction by Tusneo Matsudaira, Japanese Ambassador to the United States Probable price, $1.50

From the Spring List:

SOUNDING BRASS
By Ethel Mannin

An amazingly clever novel of a modern "go-getter." Bruce Barton, author of "The Man Nobody Knows," says: "I never read novels,—but this I read right through. A remarkable portrait." "Her methods are similar to those of Sinclair Lewis and Mencken—the main narrative is a gorgeous cartoon."—New York Times. $2.00

FROM DOUBLE-EAGLE TO RED FLAG
By General P. N. Krassnoff. Introduction by Gerhardi. Translated from 2nd Russian edition by Erik Law-Gisiko

"More than fiction—better than 10 volumes of political discussion," says the Saturday Review of Literature about this tremendous epic of Czardom, War and Revolution, covering the period from 1894 to 1921 of Russia's turbulent history. Octavo, 2 vols. Boxed, $7.50

THE DEAN AND JECINORA
By Victor L. Whitechurch

A sprightly tale of the Cathedral Close, Scotland Yard and a gay French resort, by the author of "A Bishop Out of Residence," "A Canon in Residence," etc. $2.00

WHAT IS CIVILIZATION?

A great symposium of lasting value, with an attempt to answer, by ten famous writers including Maurice Maeterlinck, Hendrik Van Loon, Dhan Gopal Mukerji, Ralph Adams Cram, Ramsay Traquair, Chi Fung-Liu and others. Octavo. Illus. $2.50

THE FREEDOM OF THE CITY
By Charles Downing Lay $1.00

A BUCOLIC ATTITUDE
By Walter Prichard Eaton $1.00

One of these delightful and charming books defends metropolitan spires and canyons. The other declares for a pastoral existence. Both sides are ably and wittily defended.

ANATOMY OF NEGATION. By Edgar Saltus. Cloth, $2.00.

Mr. Saltus is a scientific pessimist, as witty, as bitter, as satirical, as interesting and as insolent to humanity as are his predecessors, Schopenhauer and Von Hartmann. There is a prodigious and prodigal display of genius in his work that is a history of antitheism from Kapila to Leconte de Lisle and, incidentally, a revelation of the sodl of Saltus, the sceptic. His brief history of Christianity, is one of the most brilliant essays to be found in any of his writings

ANCIENT PAGAN AND MODERN CHRISTIAN SYMBOLISM. Thomas Inman. Revised and enlarged. With an Essay on Baal Worship, on the Assyrian Sacred "Grove," and other allied symbols. Fourth Edition. 200 illustrations. Cloth, $2.00.

This book is an abridgement of Dr. Inman's larger work, "Ancient Faiths Embodied in Ancient Names." It is, however, complete in itself; and in connection with the study of religion, it is by all odds the most fascinating and instructive thesis now accessible to investigators. The name of Inman is one to conjure by in the department of symbolic archeology; and the controversialist unfamiliar with this attractive volume, has a very rich treat yet in store.

AN INTIMATE VIEW OF ROBERT G. INGERSOLL. By Newton I. Baker. Cloth, $2.00.

With overflowing enthusiasm and reverent admiration the author depicts many aspects of his hero's life. He traces his career as a great orator and writer whose lips and pen "dropped polished pearls," shows him as wonderful in conversation and narration, swift in repartee, and flashing with wholesome wit and humor. On religious questions it reveals him as the hater of hypocrisy, of bigotry and superstition and an implacable foe of the dogma of eternal pain.

ANTIQUITY UNVEILED. Ancient Voices from the Spirit Realms Disclose the most Startling Revelations, proving Christianity to have been the Outgrowth of the Works and Teachings of Appollonius, combined with Extracts from Pagan Religions. 600 pages. Cloth, $3.50.

Reliable testimony proves that the works and teachings of Apollonius were appropriated by the priesthood after his death (A.D. 99) and were combined with such extracts from Pagan religions as would suit their purpose in the formation of a new religion. The teachings of Apollonius were falsely ascribed to Jesus Christ, while the testimony shows that no such person as the Christian Jesus ever existed, all of which is proven true by the testimony of many prominent witnesses in the world's history, before and at the time Christianity was forced upon the people by the priesthood.

APOCRYPHAL NEW TESTAMENT. Translated from the Original Tongue, 21 illustrations. Cloth, $1.50.

Being all the Gospels, Epistles, and other pieces now extant, attributed in the first four centuries to Jesus Christ, His Apostles and their Companions, and not included in the New Testament by its compilers.

BIOGRAPHY OF SATAN. By Kersey Graves. With a Foreword by Marshall J. Gauvin. Fourth edition with an Index. Cloth, $1.50.

Thought has a history. Christianity belongs to the natural history of thought. Its origins are found in the development and migration of mythology. And humanity is outgrowing it today because thought, illumined with knowledge, is moving to a higher plane —to the altitude of science and Rationalism. "The Biography of Satan" is an instrument in this forward movement because it is informing, an emancipating book, and therefore its author was a benefactor of mankind.

CANON OF THE BIBLE, THE. Its Formation, History and Fluctuations. By Samuel Davidson. Third edition, revised. Cloth, $1.25.

The present volume has undergone repeated revision, with enlargement in different parts, and been made as complete as the limits of an essay appeared to allow. As nothing of importance has been knowingly omitted, the writer hopes it will be found a comprehensive summary of all that concerns the formation and history of the Bible Canon.

FAITH OR FACT. Taber. Cloth, $1.25.

The author of Faith or Fact has drawn a life-like picture of modern Christianity; and has shown from the admissions of Christian writers, and from the testimony of Christian ministers, what are the real aims, and tendencies of the Christian Church. His work, which is indeed an arsenal of Facts, is a most effective antidote to unreasoning Faith.

A FEW DAYS IN ATHENS. The Translation of a Greek Manuscript. By Francis Wright. Cloth, $1.00.

Everybody who knows the value of this book will read it. It is one of the masterpieces of Freethought. Reprinted from the original London edition.

FIFTY GREAT SELECTIONS FROM INGERSOLL'S WORKS. Boards, $1.00.

Lectures, Tributes, After-Dinner Speeches and Essays, carefully selected from the Dresden Edition of Colonel Ingersoll's Complete Works.

A wholly new selection—many never before published outside of the Dresden Edition—containing many of Ingersoll's masterpieces.

FORCE AND MATTER. Buchner. Cloth, $1.50.

Büchner's volume is so powerful an exposition of the thorough-going scientific theory of the universe that it may be confidently recommended to all who wish to become acquainted with present-day Materialism. The earlier chapters, dealing with the nature and indestructibility of force and matter, are sufficiently cogent to arouse curosity. The unbiased reader will sympathize with Buchner's protest against the degrading conceptions of matter which are so common, as well as against the inveterable habit of implying a severance which does not exist between matter and force, nature and spirit, body and soul.

FUNDAMENTALS OF FREETHOUGHT. By Marshall J. Gauvin. (Eckler Large Type Series.) Cloth, $1.25.

Contents: Is There a Real God? Did Jesus Christ Really Live? Did Jesus Christ Rise From the Dead? The Bible a Dangerous Moral Guide. Is There a Life After Death? One Hundred Contradications in the Bible. Index.

HISTORY OF CHRISTIANITY. By Edward Gibbon. With portrait of Gibbon and numerous engravings of mythological divinities. 868 pages. Cloth, $3.00.

This important work contains Gibbon's complete theological writings, showing when, where, and how Christianity originated; who were its founders; and what were the sentiments, manners, numbers, and conditions of the primitive Christians.

HISTORY OF A FALSE RELIGION and BROUGHAM'S ORIGIN OF EVIL. By E. L. Bulwer (Lord Lytton). Cloth, 75 cents.

Bulwer has shown how easily its votaries were deceived, and mentally bound in a labyrinth of falsehood and error, by a designing knave, who establishes a new religion and a new order of priesthood by imposing on their ignorance and credulity.

HISTORY OF THE FIRST COUNCIL OF NICE, A. D., 325, with a Life of Constantine. A careful and unbiased history of a World's Christian Convention. By Dean Dudley. Cloth, $1.25.

In his Preface the author tells us that "the Nicene Fathers argued that the Pagan religion was derived from the poets; and, therefore, was not of divine origin. But how could they deem that an objection, seeing that the prophets of the Old Testaments were nearly all poets? And the most ancient religious books of various nations were sacred poems. It seems as if faith and hope, which are considered the principal parts of religion, are peculiarly poetical themes They are not scientific deductions, or historical facts."

ILLUSTRATED STORY OF EVOLUTION, THE. Gauvin. 48 illustrations. (Eckler Large Type Series.) Cloth, $1.25.

Written with virile force and beauty, describing the great high lights of Nature's life from nebula to man, unfolding a panorama of changing forms through the countless millions of years, the book is an epic of evolution from chaos to civilization.

INGERSOLL'S PROSE POEMS AND SELECTIONS. Revised and greatly enlarged. Containing steel engraving with facsimile autograph of the author. Over 400 pages. Board, $3.00. Cloth, $4.00.

LAST WORDS ON EVOLUTION. A popular Retrospect and Summary. By Ernst Haeckel. Translated from the second edition by Joseph McCabe. With Portrait and three Plates. Paper, 75 cents Cloth, $1.25.

Professor Haeckel says: "Readers who are interested in the evolution controversy, as I here describe it, will find in my earlier works a thorough treatment of the views I have summarily presented. I do not belong to the amiable group of 'men of compromise,' but am in the habit of giving candid and straightforward expression to the convictions which a half-century of serious and laborious study has led me to form, If I seem to be a tactless and inconsiderable fighter,' I pray you to remember that 'conflict is the father of all things,' and that the victory of pure reason over current superstition will not be achieved without a tremendous struggle."

LIFE OF JESUS. An Unexpurgated Edition. 12 Illustrations. By Ernest Renan. Cloth, $1.50.

The life of Jesus as narrated by Ernest Renan is one of the most fascinating of books. A charming writer in French, he seems equally attractive in an English translation. It is written from the standpoint of the Higher Criticism, with a signal vein of skepticism running throughout. For the most part, the character of Jesus is conceived as idealistic, in accordance with the personal prepossessions of the writer; so much so, indeed, that believers look upon the work as more or less antagonistic to the gospel story of the so-called Messiah. But however one may view Renan's iconoclasm, there is not the slightest doubt of the highly interesting and instructive nature of this popular presentation of the life of the Nazarene.

LIFE OF THOMAS PAINE. By Thos. Clio Rickman. Illustrated with views of the old Paine Homestead and Paine Monument at New Rochelle; also portraits of the most prominent of Paine's friends in Europe and America. Cloth, $1.50.

As "a man is known by the company he keeps," these portraits of Paine's associates are in themselves a sufficient refutation of the wicked libel against Paine that have so long disgraced sectarian literature.

MARRIAGE AND DIVORCE. Westbrook. Cloth, 50 cents.

This timely book treats of a subject on which more irrational treatises have been written than almost any other in the entire calendar of topics affecting human life. The book should be read to learn what can be said for divorce from the side of reason and common sense as contrasted with the crude and irrational ideas as taught be ecclesiasticism.

MARTYRDOM OF MAN. By Winwood Reade. Cloth, $2.00.

This book is a very interestingly pictured synopsis of universal history, showing what the race has undergone—its martyrdom—in its rise to its present plane. It shows how war and religion have been oppressive factors in the struggle for liberty, and the last chapter, of some 150 pages, describes his intellectual struggle from the animal period of the earth to the present, adding an outline of what the author conceives would be a religion of reason and love.

NOT GUILTY. A Defense of the Bottom Dog. By Robert Blatchford. Cloth, $1.50.

A treatment of the individual's blame or blamelessness for crime which makes the book as delightful as a novel. An international classic by the author of that

PAINE'S COMPLETE WORKS. In two volumes. Nearly 1800 pages. Vol. 1. Religious and Theological. Vol. II. Political and Miscellaneous. Cloth, $5.00.

The reader has of course read American history and knows who Thomas Paine was. It is not neccesary for us to tell that he was one of the chief instigators and promoters of the American Revolution as well as one of the most earnest and zealous workers in the brave struggle of the Colonies for freedom and independence.

PAINE'S WORKS. POPULAR EDITION.

AGE OF REASON. Cloth, $1.00.

COMMON SENSE. Paper, 30 cents.

RIGHTS OF MAN. Paper, 50 cents; cloth, $1.00.

COMPLETE WORKS. 2 vols. $5.00.

PHILOSOPHY OF DISENCHANTMENT, THE. By Edgar Saltus. Cloth, $2.00. (Ready early in September).

The Philosophy of Disenchanment is one of the best known works of this famous author. He shows himself a confirmed pessimist, witty, bitter, satirical, but withal, a literary master who has written as though he expected to live forever, at least in literature. The book is largely devoted to a discussion of the philosophy of Schopenhauer, "The High Priest of Pessimism," as Mr. Saltus calls him.

PRAISE OF FOLLY. By Erasmus. With portrait. Life of Erasmus, and his Epistle to Sir. Thomas More. Illustrated. Cloth, gilt top, $2.00.

This book contains 85 curious engravings, designed, drawn and etched by Hans Holbein.

The purpose of the book is to expose all kinds of fools, especially those who flourished in the church, not sparing the pope himself.

QUEEN MOO AND THE EGYPTIAN SPHINX. By Augustus Le Plongeon, M.D. Cloth, $10.00.

A history translated from ancient manuscripts and monuments found in Central America, the key to which has been formulated by Dr. Le Plongeon. It shows that a highly civilized people, called Mayas, lived there thousands of years before the Christian era, and that Maya colonists settled in Egypt, Chaldea, India and other countries on the Eastern Continent. It is a book of special interest to the students of ancient American history. It contains numerous illustrations.

SEARCHING FOR TRUTH. By George O. Draper. Cloth, $1.25.

This volume is clear, concise and convincing, and is the product of a master mind. The entire work is conceived in a spirit of wisdom and benevolence which proves that the learned author belongs to that unselfish class who love mankind; and who, to enlighten and instruct the masses, freely proclaim the absolute truth, regardless alike of the pious bigot's frown, or the zealous fanatic's hate.

SHORT HISTORY OF THE BIBLE. Being an Account of the Formation of the Canon.

By Bronson C. Keeler. Cloth, $1.25; paper 60 cents.

This book is a clear and intelligent account of the Books of the Bible—how we came by them—how the world first got them—and what were the qualities, characters and pretensions of those who first imposed them upon credulous and superstitious believers.

SIXTEEN CRUCIFIED SAVIORS: or, Christianity before Christ. By Kersey Graves. Cloth, $2.00.

Containing new and startling and extraordinary revelations in religious history which disclose the oriental origin of all the doctrines, principles, precepts, and miracles of the Christian New Testament, and furnishes a key for unlocking many of its sacred mysteries, besides comprising the history of sixteen oriental crucified gods, etc.

SUPERSTITION IN ALL AGES. By Jean Meslier. Portrait. Cloth, $1.50.

The learning displayed is most marked; indeed, because of the great erudition which is to be witnessed everywhere throughout the work, it was for a long time believed that Voltaire, or some euqally well-informed person, was actually the author of the book. No library library would be complete without "Meslier."

TALES OF THEOLOGY: Jehovah, Satan and the Christian Creed. By Henry M. Tichenor. Cloth, $2.25.

To those who, through religious prejudice, may attempt to deny some of the legends contained in this work, the author states that there is not one narrated but what has its source in the ancient Scriptural, Rabbininal and Mussulman writings. The author has simply put them in popular language. None of them are his own invention. They were at one time believed by the followers of Jehovah.

TWENTIETH CENTURY PAGANISM. By Willard C. Haynes, M.D. Cloth, $1.50.

Review of the Old and New Testaments, showing their teachings, derived from Pagan mythology, to be without truth, inspiration or authorship. Also contains a comparison of the six leading mythologies as affecting Christianity when applied to the teachings of Moses and Christ.

VEIL OF ISIS; OR, THE MYSTERIES OF THE DRUIDS. By Winwood Reade. Cloth, $1.75.

There is no study so sublime, and none so saddening as that of the early religions of mankind. To trace back the worship of God to its simple origin, and to mark the gradual process of those degrading superstitions, and unhallowed rites which darkened, and finally extinguished His presence in the ancient world.

VOLNEY'S RUINS OF EMPIRES AND THE LAW OF NATURE. With Illustrations, Portrait of Volney, and Map of the Astrological Heaven of the Ancients. Also Volney's Answer to Dr. Priestly, a Biographical Notice by Count Daru. Preface, and an explanation of the Zodiacal Signs and Constellations. Cloth. $1.50.

This is undoubtedly one of the best and most useful books ever published. The author is supposed to meet. in the ruins of Palmyra an apparition, which explains the true principles of society, and the causes of bo the prosperity and the ruin of acient states. A general assembly of the nations is at length convened, a legislative body formed, the source and origin of religion, government, and laws discussed, and the Law of Nature —founded on justice and equity—is finally proclaimed to an expectant world.

VOLTAIRE'S ESSAYS AND CRITICISMS. A new edition profusely illustrated, containing Voltaire's Letters on the Christian Religion; Philosophy of History; Ignorant Philosopher; Chinese Catechism. Cloth, $2.00.

DEVIL'S CATECHISM, THE. Trayno (Eckler Large Type Series.) Paper, 25 cent

DID JESUS CHRIST REALLY LIVE? Gau vin. (Eckler Large Type Series.) Pape 20 cents.

The writer argues that the Gospels are historical worthless and that the silence of the Pauline Epistl and of contemporary history proves that a virgi born, miracle-working, preaching Christ was unknow to primitive Christianity, that "he had not yet bee invented!" A striking summary of the evidence th Jesus is a myth.

DID JESUS CHRIST RISE FROM TH DEAD? Gauvin. (Eckler Large Type Se ies.) Paper, 20 cents.

The story of the resurrection of Jesus Christ examined in the light of history and reason. Mythologic resurrection stories from the older religions are cite The mutually destructive contradictions of the Ne Testament narratives are mercilessly exposed. T whole effect is a crushing indictment of the fallacy up which the Christian superstition has been reared.

FATHER TOM AND THE POPE. Ferguso Paper, 35 cents.

This little book is highly entertaining. The auth makes the Italian pope speak with an Irish brog which adds wonderfully to the charm of the narrative. By his clever use of logic, Father Tom makes the pope out to be a heretic, and otherwise humiliates him, so that they almost come to blows, but this was because the pope was constantly forgetting that the whole discussion was simply in fun, and that no insinuation touching his orthodoxy or the perfection of his morals was at all implied.

GAUVIN-OLSON DEBATES ON GOD AND THE BIBLE. Speeches revised by both disputants. 128 pages. Paper, 75 cents.

SCORING THE MINISTERS. By Marshall J. Gauvin. (Eckler Large Type Series.) Paper, 25 cents.

The ministers and priests of Tell City, Ind., disapproving of a course of lectures which Mr. Gauvin was delivering before the Teachers' Institute held in their city in September, 1924, combined forces, and prevented the delivery of the last address of the series. Then these clergymen, in a body, attended the last meeting of the Institute which they allowed, to hear the lecture, which they had vainly sought to have cancelled. They heard, not the address Mr. Gauvin had intended to give, but an extemporaneous address, intended for their special good—"Scoring the Ministers."

STRUGGLE BETWEEN RELIGION AND SCIENCE, THE. By Marshall J. Gauvin. (Eckler Large Type Series.) Paper, 25 cents.

MASONIC BOOKS

More Light (Revised)

An entirely new Manual of the first three Degrees of Freemasonry; giving the entire "Work," Lectures, Ceremonies of Initiation, Passing and Raising in the Degrees of Entered Apprentice, Fellow Craft, and Master Mason, with the Charges and Symbolism of each, in accordance with the very latest usages, omitting all such purely esoteric matter as is personally exemplified in the Lodge, and of interest only to the initiated.

Leather Tucks [Pocket-Book Style], $3.00. Postage 4 cents extra.
Cloth binding, $2.00. Postage 4 cents extra.

REVISED

Duncan's Masonic Ritual and Monitor

Part I

A complete guide to the three symbolic degrees of A. F. & A. M. York Rite; Entered Apprentice, Fellow Craft and Master Mason, together with the Constitution and By-Laws of the Lodge. By Malcolm C. Duncan.

Paper $1.00, Cloth $1.50. Postage 5 cents extra.

Part II

This Work is a complete Ritual of the Mark Master, Past Master, Most Excellent Master, and the Royal Arch degrees. By Malcolm C. Duncan.

Paper $1.00, Cloth $1.50. Postage 5 cents extra.

The above Rituals are complete works of the Degrees in Masonry, explained and interpreted in the clearest possible manner, and it is the design of the author to furnish in plain language a graphic description of all the Rites and Ceremonies practiced so as to facilitate the progress of the younger members of the order, step by step. They contain the ceremonies as they are (or should be) performed, the Pass-Words, Grips, Signs, Tokens, Jewels, Emblems, Lectures and Plans of the Interior of Lodges, and are fully explained with numerous Notes and Engravings. These are valuable books for the Fraternity. No Mason should be without them.

Parts I and II in one Vol. Cloth Bound, $2.50. Postage 6 cents extra.
Parts I and II in one Vol. Leather Tucks, $3.00. Postage 6 cents extra.

MASONIC BOOKS

Lester's "Look to the East"

Containing the model Webb Work of the Entered Apprentice, Fellow Craft, and Master Mason's Degrees, with their Opening and Closing Ceremonies, Lectures, etc. Ritually and Monitorially complete. Edited by Ralph P. Lester.

This is a complete Pocket Manual of the First Three Degrees of Masonry. It contains neither passwords, grips, nor any other purely esoteric matter. It affords, therefore, a thorough and valuable guide to the above Degrees, divested of everything that any member of the Fraternity would object to see in print, or hesitate to carry in his pocket. Bound in Cloth. $2.00. Postage 4 cents extra.
Bound in Leather Tucks, [Pocket-Book Style], gilt edges, $3.00. Postage 4 cents extra.

Masonic Facts for Masons

This work by Rev. W. H. Russell is declared by the brightest and most intelligent Masons in Europe and America, of all degrees and offices, to be one that every Mason should read. It is not an exposure in any sense, but an aid to every Mason in understanding the truths of the subject, which have very great significance. The following important questions are treated in such a way that every Master, Chaplain and Member may understand what "Speculative Masonry" or the "Science of Morals" consists in, also What Masons ought to know from a Bible view; Things not generally known to Masons; What Masonry is not, and does not profess to be, and What Constitutes a true Mason. Paper cover, 50 cents. Postage 2 cents extra.

Blue Lodge Enlight'ment

A complete work of the Entered Apprentice, Fellow Craft and Master Mason Degrees, with the Lectures, Ceremonies of Initiation, Passing and Raising in the entire "Work" with questions and answers. Especially adapted for New Jersey and South Carolina. Bound in limp cloth, $2.04 postpaid. Leather tuck (pocketbook style) $3.04 postpaid.

Howard's Odd Fellowship Up-to-Date

Containing the authorized routine for initiation, and the Lodge Degrees of Friendship, Brotherly Love and Truth, with the Opening and Closing Ceremonies in each Degree. Also the correct method for opening and closing the Encampment and for the Patriarchal, Golden Rule and Royal Purple Degrees, including the Rebekah or Ladies' Degree. By Percy Howard.

This work purposely excludes all esoteric matter, but is in all other respects strictly in accordance with the amendments and alterations adopted by the Sovereign Grand Lodge at St. Paul, Minn.
Paper covers, 50 cts. Postage 3 cts. extra. Bound in cloth, $1.00. Postage 4 cts. extra.

Cushing's Manual

The Manual of Parliamentary practice, containing rules of proceedings and debates on deliberative assemblies.
Paper covers, 25 cts. Postage 3 cts. extra. Bound in cloth, 50 cts. Postage 4 cts. extra.

Barber's American Book of Ready Made Speeches

On a great variety of topics and suitable for all social and public occasions. It provides over one hundred and fifty models of humorous and serious speeches and addresses of welcome, condolence, and for presentations, with suitable replies, at political and public assemblies, club dinners, and other festivals; also, toasts for public, private, and trade re-unions. This book suggests a wide range of material for ready speakers, and a much needed aid to all who may be called upon to make a speech.
Boards, 75 cts. Postage 4 cts. extra. Paper, 50 cts. Postage 3 cts. extra.

Bill's School and Mine, by W. S. Franklin.

A collection of Essays on Education . . . . Price $1.00

These essays are so compact and so forcible that the Independent called the book "A Package of Dynamite," and the reviewer in The Elementary School Journal (University of Chicago) says "Impossible to read these essays lying down."

Elements of Electrical Engineering, Franklin and Esty.

Volume I—Direct Currents . . . . . Price $4.50

Volume II—Alternating Currents . . . . " 4.00

This two-volume treatise was published in 1906-7 and it has been and still is very extensively used as a text book in our technical schools.

Dynamos and Motors, Franklin and Esty . . . . Price $3.00

This is a one-volume arrangement of the simpler parts of Franklin and Esty's ELEMENTS OF ELECTRICAL ENGINEERING.

Elements of Electrical Engineering, W. S. Franklin.

Volume I—D. C. and A. C. Machines and Systems . Price $4.50

Volume II—Elec. Lighting and Misc. Application . " 3.00

This two-volume treatise was finished in 1917. It is much simpler than Franklin and Esty's ELEMENTS, and several teachers who have used it have found it highly satisfactory,—

(a) For a first course or "Survey course" for Electrical Engineering Students, and

(b) For use by Students of Civil, Mechanical, Chemical and Mining Engineering.

(c) Volume I alone is suitable for Trade School and Night School students who have had some Training in Elementary Algebra and Geometry.

Dynamo Laboratory Manual, Franklin and Esty.

Volume I—Direct Current Studies and Tests . Price $2.50

Electric Waves, W. S. Franklin . . . . . Price $4.00

Transmission Line Theory,

by W. S. Franklin and F. E. Terman . . Price $4.00

The Study of Electricity by the Deductive Method,

George Ira Alden, B. S., M. M. E. . . . Price $1.50

BANKS, LOUIS ALBERT, D.D.

Dramatic Stories of Jesus, Filling Silent Places in the Gospels. A series of 21 short stories, covering the life of Jesus from "The Night Before Christmas" to "Mary at the Tomb," based on the accounts of the four apostles.

It has always been regretted that numerous incidents in Jesus' life are condensed in the Bible into mere statements of outstanding fact or dismissed with a few short paragraphs, for the complete details would prove of intense interest.

Dr. Louis Albert Banks has endeavored to fill a few of the "silent places in the Gospels" with his "Dramatic Stories of Jesus"—stories, he says, "as they might have been." Necessarily the stories are fiction, and the fiction is the more entertaining in that it is in conversational style. Some of the stories are: Jesus' Birth as Told by One of the Shepherds; Nicodemus's Own Story of His Acquaintance with Jesus; Martha's Story of the Raising of Lazarus; Peter's Story of the Last Night; Mary Magdalene's Own Story; How Simon of Cyrene Came to Bear the Cross.

Beautifully illustrated with 21 selections from the world's masterpieces (20 in half-tone and the frontispiece in colors), carefully chosen to accord with the stories they accompany.

BIBLE DICTIONARY, NEW STANDARD

A completely revised, rewritten, and reset edition based on the original work which for several years has been the leading authority. In view of many recent discoveries which have been at the disposal of the editors, this work will be the newest and most complete of its kind available. The editors of the original edition, Professor Melancthon W. Jacobus, Professor Edward E. Nourse and Professor Andrew C. Zenos, have spent nearly a year making this new edition, assisted by thirty-seven of the ablest Biblical scholars of this country, Great Britain, and the Continent. So thorough has been the work of revision that the volume is practically new. Several new and very helpful articles are added. Professor James Moffatt and Professor John E. McFadyen have contributed informing articles on The Right Approach to The Bible and how it should be approached and interpreted, thus affording a guide to the study of the Bible as well as to the most profitable use of the new Standard Bible Dictionary. Other new articles deal with English Versions of the Bible, The Religion and History of Israel, The Synoptic Problem, Greek Religion, and Roman Religion.

FEATURES

1. It treats upon the languages, literature, history, biography, manners, and customs, and the theology of the Scriptures.
2. It is a book not only of facts, figures, and dates, but also a book of explanation—interpretation of the meaning of words, phrases, and passages, giving an analytical exposition of the entire thought of the book in which the text appears.
3. It is the joint product of forty Bible scholars of INTERNATIONAL REPUTATION.
4. Every leading article is SIGNED with the initials of its author.
5. American and English Revised Versions and King James' Version are used.
6. THE BASIS FOR ITS LIST OF TITLES was not the judgment of any one man or set of men, but THE CONCORDANCE TO THE BIBLE ITSELF.
7. Correct proportion in the treatment of all subjects is carefully maintained.
8. Toward debated problems it is open-minded.
9. While liberal, it is BY NO MEANS RADICAL. It is conservatively progressive.

10. It is dominated by evangelical faith in the message and mission of Jesus.
11. Much—VERY MUCH—of its material is drawn from ORIGINAL sources.
12. Some of its collaborators have spent years in Egypt and the Holy Land to investigate Bible questions or engage in archeological researches.
13. THE LATEST DISCOVERIES in Assyria, Babylonia, Nineveh, Luxor, etc., are included.
14. It is not a book of fads or fancies—it is essentially a dictionary OF the Bible, not one ABOUT the Bible. This alone stamps the work as UNIQUE.
15. It is judiciously illustrated—not a picture book. Many of the illustrations were obtained from original sources, such as the Suvia Paton collection at Hartford.
16. The eleven COLORED MAPS were especially prepared for this work by eminent Bible scholars who sojourned in Bible lands and have given to the world the results of their studies.
17. It is the only Bible Dictionary that gives the pronunciation of title-words in a perfect system of notation.
18. It is the only Bible Dictionary that TRANSLITERATES THE HEBREW AND GREEK so that those unfamiliar with these languages can get an intelligent idea of the words before them.
19. It is the only single-volume Bible Dictionary that supplies the KEY TO FURTHER STUDY by its admirable bibliographies.
20. Its LABOR AND TIME-SAVING TYPOGRAPHICAL DEVICES and its SYSTEM of CROSS-REFERENCES are especially valuable.

Imperial 8vo, Cloth, 989 pages. $7.50; Buckram, $8.50; Three Quarter Morocco, $12.50. Thumb-notch index, 75 cents extra. Helpfully illustrated.

BONNER, MARY GRAHAM

A Parent's Guide to Children's Reading. A delight to all parents who have the responsibility of selecting reading matter for their children and for all adults who make gifts of books to children. Each and every book is briefly described in this volume, not in a dull, analytical manner, but with genuinely interesting and enlightening comment, flavored with a candidness and a charm of literary expression that make the descriptions doubly satisfying and informative. The author is known to thousands of book-lovers as editor of the Children's Book Department of The Literary Digest International Book Review, and as author of many books for children and articles on children's reading. She is exceptionally well-fitted to appraise children's books because from earliest childhood she was abnormally fond of them and through the intervening years has shown an ever increasing devotion to them. Through this volume the author opens up the entire world of really clean, sound, and valuable books for children of four to sixteen, from the picture books of earliest childhood to the splendid works for girls and boys in the middle of their teens. With this guide every book you select for children will be a success.

BOYD, GLADYS L., M.D., and STALSMITH, MARION D.

Manual for Diabetics. With an introduction by F. G. Banting, M.D., co-discoverer of the Insulin Treatment. An authoritative medical work which explains in simple every-day language the origin and symptoms of diabetes, gives explicit directions for its treatment with selected food and the newly-discovered insulin, and contains warnings against delay in treatment and the complications that delay may bring. It also contains tables of food values, food recipes, and menus for the diabetic's daily diet, giving the number of grams (or ounces) and calories in fruits, vegetables, meats, cheese, salads, sauces, desserts, etc., and explaining the arrangement for eating carbohydrate, protein, and fat foods. It points out the necessity for daily tests of the urine and gives directions by which the diabetic can easily make the analysis himself in his own home. Under the care of a physician and the treatment for diabetes outlined in the book, the function of the pancreas improves and there is possibility of a cure.

BRADLEY, WILLARD KING

Inside Secrets of Photoplay Writing. Here is a work which gives all the successful "tricks of the trade" in addition to a complete quota of what might be termed the mechanics of photoplay writing—those important features which often make the difference between acceptance and rejection of photoplays. The author is an outstandingly successful photoplay writer, so his suggestions come from one "on the inside." Not only does the author show you how to write successful photoplays, but he gives copies of his original text of two of his well-known productions —"The Beloved Imp," and "The Sidewalks of New York," in which you find his recommendations put into actual practice.

CROCKETT, ALBERT STEVENS

When James Gordon Bennett Was Caliph of Bagdad. The first book about James Gordon Bennett—sportsman and proprietor of the famed New York Herald—to be written by one closely associated with the Commodore for many years and who took orders from him alone. The author portrays a man without a counterpart in the history of journalism or in the annals of his day when he was a world-figure. He tells how Bennett managed his newspapers; his eccentricities in dealing with employees; his lack of regard for expense in gathering news; gives accurate pictures of life among Americans in London, in Paris, and at a fashionable French resort at the beginning of the century; thumb-nail text pictures of semi-historical personages and occurrences; and bits of international scandal. The author, Albert Stevens Crockett, is a nationally known newspaper man who for some years was accounted the best interviewer in New York. There is information, interest, and surprise on every page of this book.

DIX, DOROTHY

Dorothy Dix: Her Book. Every-day Help for Every-day People. A famous editor has described Dorothy Dix as "the most popular woman journalist in the world," because she "understands human nature, and, with her sympathy and broadminded tolerance, she strikes a note that rings true in every heart." In these pages she has a message of cheer and of wit and wisdom for all men and women, for the young, the middle-aged, the old—for husbands and wives, for fathers and mothers, for sons and daughters, for sweethearts and lovers. And all she has to say—out of her profound knowledge of life and human nature—is pungent, sincere and absolutely free from mushiness or sentimentality. Her style is her own, but her manner of speech is that of every-day people. Some typical Dorothy-Dixian chapter headings are: "How a Husband Likes to Be Treated," "The Ordinary Woman," "Spoiling a Wife," "Are You Good Company for Yourself?" "Keeping Young," "To Marry or Not to Marry," "Grafting on the Old Folks," "The Mother-in-Law," "Our Lives Are What We Make Them," "Queer Things About Marriage," "Sell Yourself to Your Children," "Don't Make Your Children Glad You Are Dead," "Don't Be Afraid to Let Your Husband See You Love Him," "Taking Husbands As Is," "What Price Pleasure?" "Giving Children Advantages," "Invalidism a Graft," "Should Women Tell?"

DORR, RHETA CHILDE

A Woman of Fifty. This unique autobiography of a most remarkable and courageous woman covers one of the most revolutionary periods of time in history—from virtually the beginning of a concerted movement to organize the women of this country in the fight for equality in politics and industry to the time when these hitherto unattainable causes were firmly established in our economic and governmental systems. As journalist, lecturer, editor, and writer, the author has taken part in virtually every event that marks her generation; was the only woman war correspondent with the famed Russian women's "Battalion of Death" on the last Kerensky offensive on the Eastern front; spent three years in "after war" Europe, and is to-day in the thick of things in this country. Few men or women have met and overcome as many obstacles in life or fought harder for ideals than has the author of this volume—and fewer could relate their experiences in such a frank, forceful, and grippingly interesting style as this book reveals. There are no pages in which interest lags.
8vo, Cloth, 482 pages. $2.50, net.
"Her experience has been truly remarkable and her story is told in intense, clear, and vivid style and with a brevity that is fascinating."—Globe, Boston, Mass.
"Mrs. Dorr neither minces words nor writes in malice. 'A Woman of Fifty' has produced a vital book."—North American, Philadelphia, Pa.
"One of the frankest confessions that a woman has ever made is this autobiography."—Globe-Democrat, St. Louis, Mo.

FINCK, HENRY T.

Musical Laughs. When Mr. Finck became musical editor of the New York Evening Post in 1881 he began gathering from newspapers, magazines, and books in several languages all jokes and personal anecdotes that threw humorous side-lights on musical life and musical celebrities. This charming collection of humor, to which he has added personal observances from his amazingly rich experience, has been given form in this unusual volume. Here you will read little stories and humorous anecdotes about Caruso, Jeritza, Melba, Jean de Reszke, Christine Nilsson, Pol Plançon, Lablache, Raymond Hitchcock, Patti, Chaliapin, Malibran, Nordica, Calvé, Maggie Teyte, Tito Mattei, Tamaki, Miura, Paderewski, Josef Hoffmann, Novaes, Pachmann, Theodore Thomas, Liszt, Hans von Bülow, Rubinstein, Joseffy, Brahms, Gottschalk, Fritz Kreisler, Wagner, Josef Joachim, Maud Powell, Remenyi, etc. This book should be read with the keenest interest by all musical lovers. The frontispiece is a caricature of Caruso drawn by himself.

FISCHER, LOUIS, M.D.

Health-Care of the Baby. (New 1925 Revised Edition.) A completely revised, rewritten, and greatly enlarged edition of this standard work based on the 14th edition. The importance of this 15th edition may be better realized when it is understood that the great recent advances made in the management and feeding of normal infants have made necessary radical changes in diet, particularly in the quantity of milk given. Complete instructions are given for feeding healthy and full-term infants as well as for premature, sick, and delicate babies. What to do in emergencies and accidents is well covered and wise counsel is given regarding what action to take in treating the principal diseases and affections of childhood, including a complete daily routine to follow in airing, bathing, clothing, and diet. A classic for the nursery and the home.

FISHER, IRVING, Ph.D.

America's Interest in World Peace. (Revised Edition.) A presentation of the cause of the League of Nations—a résumé of the author's "League or War?" with new matter added that brings the subject up to date. This volume recounts the League's work and its influence on world affairs; shows how it has fared in American politics, and ends with a plea for America's entry into the League and also into the Permanent Court of International Justice at the Hague.

FISHER, IRVING, Ph.D., and FISK, EUGENE LYMAN, M.D.

How to Live. (The new 1925 edition.) The Rules of Healthful Living Based Upon Modern Science Authorized by the Hygiene Reference Board of the Life Extension Institute, Inc. This is the standard home book of health, completely revised, re-written, reset, and greatly enlarged, based upon the 18th edition, to which has been added information regarding the latest developments in medicine and hygiene. This pre-eminent book covers the whole subject of hygiene, personal and general, in a manner easily understandable to the average person. Many valuable illustrations and diagrams and a number of helpful exercises are included, making the volume as a whole the most valuable non-technical medical work available to the general public.

FITCH, HENRY

The Perfect Calendar. This is a newly revised edition of this standard work which now contains, in addition to a calendar for every year of the Christian Era, a chronological record of important events in the history of the world from B.C. 10000 to 1926 A.D. The most practical of all perpetual calendars because it requires no manipulation and adjustment of mechanical devices, no wheels, sectors, pointers, or sliding-slips to consume time and tax patience. Its accuracy is absolutely assured—among other reasons because the work consists of but 14 different annual calendars arranged in the regular form of ordinary monthly calendars which cover all dates in the Julian or in the Gregorian System. Although intended primarily for commercial use and for modern dates, it will be found of special value to students of profane and sacred history.

GEMS OF ART

†Gems of Art. A set of six beautiful volumes on the lives and paintings of the six world acclaimed artists—Rembrandt, Reynolds, Greuze, Watts, Raeburn, and Constable. Each volume contains 8 full-page color reproductions of such celebrated paintings as Rembrandt's "Portrait of Himself," "The Burgomaster," "The Syndics of the Cloth Merchants' Guild"; Reynolds' "Miss Bowles ('Love Me, Love My Dog')," "The Strawberry Girl," "Heads of Angels"; Greuze's "Girl Leaning on Her Hand," "The Listening Girl," "A Girl With Doves"; Watts' "Life's Illusions," "Love and Life," "Hope"; Raeburn's "Boy With Rabbit," and Constable's "The Cornfield, or Country Lane." They are reproduced on the finest quality canvas grain paper. You are also given biographies of these painters giving trustworthy, informative and interesting records of their lives and works. Bound in artistic paper boards with medallion on cover, lettering in gold. Exclusive of the 8 full-page color plates, each volume contains 95 pages. The text pages are of a fine quality and the type is of a size noted for its readability. Size 7½ inches wide by 10 inches high. Each volume, $1.75, net; $10.50 per set, net.

HAWTHORNE, NATHANIEL, Editor

The Yarn of A Yankee Privateer. (With an Introduction by Clifford Smyth.) The discovery of an old manuscript in the archives of the Hawthorne family and a series of strange coincidences have made possible the publication for the first time in book form of this remarkable narrative. Although Nathaniel Hawthorne originally edited the manuscript in 1846 the author remains a mystery to this day. "The Yarn of A Yankee Privateer" is the personal record of a participant in the war of 1812 who describes privateering and privateersmen as they really were. There are thrilling descriptions of fights on land and sea; of hairbreadth attempts at escape; of prison life at Dartmoor, England, and the famous massacre there in which many American captives were killed. History is notoriously lacking in just the material the unknown author so vividly and picturesquely describes. The most fascinating historical work ever published about American privateering.

HAYDEN, ARTHUR

Spode and His Successors (Limited Edition). This magnificent volume is the result of long and arduous exploration and will be indispensable to every one who is interested in English pottery and earthenware. This is the only complete and authentic record of the Spode-Copeland Factory and its productions which has been put into print. The author has traced the story of the Spodes from the beginning through all developments, filling up gaps, and dissipating many legends that have grown up concerning them. This volume will be noteworthy alone for its illustrations, which have been taken almost entirely from pieces in private collections. There are twenty-four plates in full color, mounted and tissued, and sixty-four half-tone plates.
Super Royal 8vo, Cloth, 224 pages, 88 illustrations. Limited edition. $25.00, net.

JENKS, J. W. and LAUCK, W. JETT

The Immigration Problem. This is the sixth edition, revised and enlarged, of the accepted standard work on immigration digested from the 42-volume report issued by the United States Immigration Commission which was appointed in 1907. Prof. Rufus D. Smith has made the present revision bringing the work down to date including the latest rulings on immigration, with text of the Immigration Act of 1924.
8vo, Cloth. $4.00, net.

KLEISER, GRENVILLE

Similies and Their Use. A collection of over 4,500 of the most apt phrases, principally the creation of the keenest minds in the world but including hundreds which tho not of distinctive authorship are fully as descriptive and as virile, many of which have never before been collected into book form. An indispensable book and one which by the manner of presentation will commend itself to every one who works in words, and particularly to those who realize the value of phrases which in few words more vividly explain or describe emotions, scenes, etc., than hundreds of other less skilfully selected words. The volume is divided into four sections: 1. Prose similes. 2. Poetic similes. 3. Bible similes. 4. Miscellaneous similes.
12mo, Cloth, 386 pages. $2.00, net.

Training for Authorship (A Complete Course in the Writer's Art). A comprehensive, authoritative, and inspiring guide for the prospective writer, and of practical value to the trained writer. It not only covers every phase of authorship, but explains every step so vividly and so graphically that any one who reads may follow them. Grenville Kleiser is perhaps the best-known teacher of the correspondence form of instruction in America and has trained, through his courses in public speaking and practical English, scores of thousands of men and women in every profession and occupation. This volume is the outcome of many years' practical experience and of outstanding success in writing and teaching.

NATIONAL HEALTH SERIES, THE

In order to make available to the general public at moderate prices authoritative books on all phases of human health, the National Health Council arranged with the Funk & Wagnalls Company for the publication of The National Health Series. It contains twenty books of about 18,000 words each, written in easily-understood, non-technical language, by the leading health authorities of the country. The appearance of these volumes marks an epoch in the great work of prolonging life and promoting individual and community health in this country. The National Health Council is composed of the following representative organizations: American Child Health Association, American Public Health Association, American Red Cross, American Social Hygiene Association, American Society for the Control of Cancer, Conference of State and Provincial Health Authorities of North America, Council on Health and Public Instruction of The American Medical Association, National Committee for Mental Hygiene, National Organization for Public Health Nursing, National Tuberculosis Association, United States Public Health Service, American Association of Industrial Physicians and Surgeons, National Committee for the Prevention of Blindness, Women's Foundation for Health. Titles, authors, and brief descriptions of each book are as follows:

POST, EMILY

Parade. (A Novel of New York Society.) This is one of the most outstanding and revealing books of fiction published in recent years, not only because it deals with the aspirations and ambitions of every woman who has or craves the opportunity to get into society, and to climb after she gets in, but equally because of the charm and power and skill which the author displays in its composition. The volume deals with a young girl who would seem to be hopelessly handicapped socially because of her beginnings in life, but who rises and shines in that section of New York society which is all pomp and ostentation, and which forms the background of this vivid story, so aptly entitled "Parade."

POWELL-OWEN, W.

The Complete Poultry Book. An entirely new work designed to present the latest ideas and methods of poultry-raising in such a way as to meet the requirements of every keeper, whether he operates on either a large or small scale. Types of breeds for different objectives are fully described and illustrated; selection of layers and breeders by the "handling" system—of which the author is the recognized English expert—and the internal working of the hen are so described that the modern methods of feeding and housing for egg-production can be readily followed. Breeding, housing, feeding, ailments and their treatment—everything, indeed, connected with poultry-keeping—is dealt with in this volume, which forms a complete standard work on Poultry—an "Enquire Within" on the whole subject.

RICHMAN, JACOB

Laughs From Jewish Lore. A collection of folk tales and anecdotes which give the reader an insight into true Jewish character and habit of mind—the first book of its kind in the English language. These examples of wit and humor are not to be confused with the familiar "Hebrew yarn," which is offensive and not Jewish but merely about Jews. The stories in this collection will command interested attention not only through their quaintness but also through the charming manner with which they are told. The entire volume is a radical departure from anything that has ever appeared in the English language pertaining to Jewish wit and humor. The author, a well-known Hebrew scholar and authority on Jewish folk-lore, has made an exhaustive study of Jewish humor from earliest times to the present day and has as a result produced a decidedly unique and genuinely interesting work. The introduction to the book represents a comprehensive survey of the history and evolution of Jewish humor during 3000 years. A splendid book for reference or for casual reading.

SMITH, ISABEL COTTON

The Blue Book of Cookery and Manual of House Management. (Introduction by Emily Post.) This is not "just another cook-book," but an original and authoritative guide for the preparation of foods and for house management. All the originality and importance of this volume would be of limited value unless it were written by so capable and practical an authority as Isabel Cotton Smith. It contains more than 2000 recipes; gives complete information on the management of house and home, with invaluable suggestions for table economy, and includes everything for every season and every day in the year, for every possible repast from breakfast to late supper and from teas and picnic meals to specially designed menus for children at home and at school, as well as menus for vegetarians.

STANDARD CROSS-WORD PUZZLE BOOK, THE

Compiled by Charles E. Funk. With an introduction by Frank H. Vizetelly, Litt.D., LL.D. Contains 50 true cross-word puzzles. Each puzzle can be solved with words that are to be found in their proper alphabetical order in the Funk & Wagnalls New Standard Dictionary (unabridged). All definitions are exactly as given in the dictionary, except where brevity was necessary. There are no misleading or "smart" definitions. No slang words are used. All Biblical terms, except obvious ones, are defined by chapter and verse references. The Standard Cross-Word Puzzle Book is the only one in which the words and definitions wholly conform to the recognized rules of English. A transparent celluloid work sheet accompanies each volume—this saves erasures and overwriting in the book itself and can be used both for solving and making puzzles.

STORY, MARGARET

How to Dress Well. A valuable treatise for women which considers dress from both the artistic and the practical viewpoints, and provides sound information on the principles of tasteful and attractive apparel. Changing fashions always present serious problems to the majority of women, for, regardless of how radical the variations may be, she must so design her costumes as to conform the new modes to her own lines and distinctive personality. She must consider her own type, her size, her proportions, her features, and especially her coloring, and harmonize her costume with all. As an authority on Dress Economics, Mrs. Story has lectured before thousands of women in hundreds of audiences, and her work has the enthusiastic endorsement of the spokeswomen of leading professional, business and educational clubs, so what she has to say may be accepted without question and followed with utmost confidence. Not only does this book give details for enhancing one's personal appearance, for slenderizing the stout, for broadening the slender, for the selection of head-wear and other accessories, but it also carries other practical guidance for the selection and testing of materials, for the choosing of laces and furs, for budgeting the dress allowance, and, by no means least, for the care and upkeep of the wardrobe. Mothers with daughters will find this volume indispensable. 15 illustrations and two full-page color charts. 8vo, Cloth, about 400 pages. $3.50, net.

VIZETELLY, FRANK H., Litt.D., LL.D.

Conjunctions: Their Use and Abuse. Tells (1) What conjunctions are; (2) Their functions in English; (3) How they came into being; (4) How they have been abused; (5) How they should be used—the whole illustrated by examples drawn from Classic English literature and supplemented by rules that govern their use in correct speech and writing.

WAGNALLS, MABEL

The Light in the Valley. A book so true that it hurts. The simple life-story of an American girl who held as her motto, as the compass of her course: "Perseverance a substitute for Genius." From a girlhood of the utmost poverty, in a tiny town, she became by her own efforts a woman of influence in the World's Metropolis. But who may say what Life is a success; what Hour the one of triumph; what Deed the one that endures? Read this narrative and learn how, in the life of Anna Willis, the end of it all—the final moment—became the real Beginning.

The Mad-Song. An exceedingly interesting piece of fiction about two sisters and their experiences and adventures in the musical world. The principal characters are two Russian girls, both musicians of rare talent. Music to one, who seems doomed for sorrow, provides the means of spanning the globe. To her music is at once happiness, balm for her sorrow, the means for support and finally, leads to the supreme tragedy. To the other music brings tribulations, the open sesame to prison doors, and finally, love. The author has penetrated deep into the mysteries of Muscovite character to depict these two typical daughters of the race.
12mo, Cloth, 267 pages. $2.00, net.

Opera and Its Stars. A fascinating study of the music and themes of many famous operas, revealing the skill with which the composers have blended music and word to interpret emotions and passions, and create atmosphere; intimate stories of the queens of song and their art; a mirror of the musical world. The list of musical stars mentioned includes Galli-Curci, Jeritza, Geraldine Farrar, Mary Garden, Frieda Hempel, Emma Eames, Lilli Lehmann, Marcella Sembrich, Lillian Nordica, Melba, Calvé, etc. Among the operas included are "Tosca," "Pagliacci," "Madame Butterfly," "Pelléas and Mélisande," "Rigoletto," "Semiramide," "Huguenots," "Flying Dutchman," etc. Students, teachers, and all lovers of music will find the volume of genuine value as well as out-of-the-ordinary interest. 24 full-page illustrations of eminent artists.

WHELPLEY, J. D.

Reconstruction. A keen, unbiased, and clearly expressed appraisal, by an authority, of the economic conditions of the nations most affected by the World War—a volume of sound common sense and practical value to every business man, economist, public official—in fact, every forward-looking citizen. The author, who has been abroad on special missions for the United States Government, presents material which he gathered from first-hand sources during his residences in England, France, Italy, Germany, and Austria. International trade before and after the war is examined; emigration and immigration are touched upon, and the conditions in the British Empire, France, Italy, Belgium, Russia, Germany and her war allies, the European neutrals, and the new governments of Europe are individually analyzed. The authority on reconstruction.
8vo, Cloth, 383 pages. $3.50, net.

"An immense amount has been written and published about the ruin of Europe and the problem of its reconstruction; so much, indeed, that the man in the street has fairly lost his way in the maze thus created and has, for the most part, given up the attempt to understand a situation which clearly puzzles the experts. Mr. Whelpley, then, has done well in giving to the world, in a concise and inexpensive form, a clear diagnosis of the sickness which afflicts Europe, with certain suggestions for its cure."—Times, London, England.

"The book is a marvel of compactness, wealth of material, and practical value."—Rev. Bishop John H. Vincent, D.D., Chicago, Ill.

"I regard The Analytical Reference Bible as a most valuable contribution to our literature. It combines advantages which I have never seen before in one work. That it is a storehouse of valuable helps for every minister and theological student is very clear. There is no work with which I am acquainted that at all supplied the need which this work is sure to do. I fully believe it is a book which will open the Bible and the depth of its meaning to large numbers who have not yet seen it in the clear light in which it is here revealed."—Rev. Bishop John F. Hurst, D.D., Washington, D. C.

"The Analytical Reference Bible has superseded the  in use on my study table for sixteen years, and with it various Bible helps, all of which I find between the covers of this work in more available form."—Rev. Josiah Strong, D.D., Pres. Amer. Inst. Social Service, New York.

"It would not be possible to find in the compass of any other single volume so complete and valuable apparatus for the direct study of the text of the English Bible."—Rev. Dr. W. Henry Green, Princeton, N. J.

Dramatic Stories of Jesus. Twenty-one short stories covering the life of Jesus. In the Bible numerous incidents of Jesus' life are condensed by the four apostles into mere statements of fact or a few short paragraphs. But as the complete details would prove of intense interest, Dr. Banks has endeavored to fill a few of these "silent places in the Gospels" with his "Dramatic Stories of Jesus"—stories, he says, "as they might have been." Necessarily the stories are fiction, and more entertaining in that they are in conversational style. Beautifully illustrated with 21 selections from the world's masterpieces (frontispiece in colors). 12mo, Cloth, 310 pages. $2.00.

BARKER, ALDRED F.

†Woolen and Worsted Spinning. A broad survey of the industry in England and Scotland. It gives detailed technical information of great value, unobtainable, we believe, from few, if any, other sources. The 100 illustrations and 12 folding plates will be found exceptionally interesting. Professor Barker for years has had charge of the Department of Textile Industries in the University of Leeds and has directed the research work there. The results of this vast experience is contained in this volume. 12mo, Cloth, 352 pp. Illustrated. $3.00.

BIBLE DICTIONARY, NEW STANDARD

A completely revised, enlarged, and reset edition based on the original, which has been the leading authority for a number of years. Professor Melancthon W. Jacobus, Professor Edward E. Nourse, and Professor Andrew C. Zenos, the editors of the original work, have spent nearly a year in the preparation of this new edition, with the help of thirty-seven of the ablest Biblical scholars of this country, Great Britain, and the Continent. So thorough has been the work of the editors that this is practically a new book. The latest findings of Biblical scholars are included and several new articles are added, Professor James Moffatt and Professor John E. McFadyen having contributed articles on The Right Approach to the Bible, thus affording a guide to the study of the Bible as well as to the most profitable use of the New Standard Bible Dictionary. Other added articles deal with English Versions of the Bible, The Religion and History of Israel, The Synoptic Problem, Greek Religion, and Roman Religion. Imperial 8vo, Cloth, 989 pp., $7.50; Buckram, $8.50; Three Quarter Morocco, $12.50. Thumb-notch index, 75 cents extra. Helpfully illustrated.

†A Ride to Khiva. Tales of adventures in Central Asia, with portrait of the author, and seven illustrations. Crown 8vo, Cloth, 346 pp. $2.00.

BURRELL, DAVID J., D.D., LL.D.

A Quiver of Arrows. This volume is far more than a collection of pulpit discourses. It consists of seventy sermons, each of which has been reduced by severe, tho intelligent, epitomizing to a fifteen minutes' discourse — terse, clear, and forcible, by Thomas Douglas, Ph.D. The rhetorical divisions are few and plain and simple, making the sermons models of composition for the theological student, the young preacher and the class leader. A topical index of sermonic illustrations adds still further to the homiletic value of the book. The sermons in the book are grouped under the following classifications: Textual sermons, Expository sermons, Topical sermons, Doctrinal sermons, Biographical sermons, Ethical sermons, Sociological sermons, Anniversary sermons. 8vo, Cloth, 391 pp. $1.50.

The Lure of the City. Twenty-two chapters devoted to the young man who is just leaving the rural home to take up life in the city. 12mo, Cloth. $1.25.

BURTON, WILLIAM, M.A., F.C.S.

†A General History of Porcelain (Two Volumes). The author, Mr. William Burton, probably the greatest living authority on porcelain, here presents the most incisive, most authoritative, and most instructive work that has ever been published for the student and collector. The volumes contain a complete survey of the development of porcelain from the earliest Chinese production down to the present day. They are further enriched by a series of colored plates and other illustrations which are remarkable for their quality. Of these, there are 32 plates in color and 80 in black and white, while the text also contains reproductions, in facsimile, of works connected with the various periods and porcelain factories. The first volume deals with the porcelains of China, Japan, Korea, Persia, Italy, Spain, Portugal, and France, the second embracing chapters on the minor French factories, and the porcelains of England, Germany, Norway, Sweden, and other European countries. Two volumes, 8vo, Cloth, profusely illustrated, with many color plates. 460 pp. $30.00 the set.

†Josiah Wedgwood and His Pottery. This book is something different from any on the subject that has appeared hitherto. It is not so much a biography as a story of Wedgwood's work; it shows the development of the great potter's achievements — how his ideas were worked out, step by step, to ultimate successful practice. There is much that is of paramount historical and technical interest concerning Wedgwood's glazes, his kilns, his methods of working his clay, and of obtaining his designs, and the expression of his ideas. For a considerable time the author worked at Etruria, the world-famous works that Josiah Wedgwood built; he penetrated Wedgwood's technical secrets, he knew his formulæ, he discovered new facts concerning the man as well as his work. He therefore writes with authority. The color plates especially are triumphs of color photography. Their wide range of subject will doubtless surprize many who have come to associate the name of Wedgwood almost entirely with the "jasper" and basalt wares. Representative examples are given of every type of production of the Etruria kilns. There are 32 plates in color and 72 in half-tone. Edition limited to 500 copies for the United States. Super-royal 8vo, Cloth, 206 pp. $25.00.

BUTLER, ELLIS PARKER

The Incubator Baby. By the author of "Pigs is Pigs," and just as full of fun. A little classic brimming over with Satire—Sentiment—Sense. 12mo, Cloth, illustrated. $1.00.

"A delicious satire which will be enjoyed by all families where the real baby, reared by natural processes, is the monarch of the crib, and all intervening space and time."—Pittsburgh Post.

"Filled with delightful humor and a touch of pathos."—Detroit News.

BUTLER, GLENTWORTH R., A.M., M.D.

Emergency Notes. Every man and woman should posses the knowledge which this little volume imparts. It treats in a most lucid and comprehensive way all cases of accidents or sudden disorder which are likely to overtake one at any moment and gives valuable instructions as to what to do until the doctor comes. Easily understood descriptions of the body and its functions are included. The many drawings and diagrams with which the volume is illustrated will prove of the greatest practical value, particularly those referring to broken bones, bandaging, and drowning. 12mo, Cloth, illustrated, 102 pp. 75c.

Loan associations, real-estate dealers, and builders will find it invaluable. "The House-Owner's Book" covers perplexing problems that have never before been brought together in book form, and is written with clarity and precision. It is complete along lines of wide-reaching interest. It tells the prospective house-owner how to select a site for a house, and how to finance the building of it; tells him what he needs to know about the construction of the house; has a full chapter on different kinds of common woods and their uses; a short chapter on metals used in the house; a chapter on plumbing and how to make ordinary repairs; a chapter on heating and ventilation; another on the water supply, with special reference to wells and their care; a chapter on painting, and how to do it where professional skill is not required; a chapter on electricity; a chapter on special appliances, such as the iceless ice-box, vacuum cleaners, etc.; and additional chapters on drainage, lighting, home electricity, the garage, etc. There is also a wealth of information on fire hazards in the house; gas accidents; dangers from electricity; and hazards from electrical appliances. 12mo, Cloth, with numerous illustrations. 404 pp. $2.00.

"The house-owner who objects to the high cost of repairs in these days may learn many money-saving tricks from this book. And even if economy is not his first thought, there are many things about the house—such as its electrical equipment, the treatment of hardwood floors, the water supply, etc.—that are explained so simply and thoroughly that the puzzled reader will be happy in the possession of the book."—Outlook, New York.

CLAXTON, WILLIAM J.

†Insect Workers. The author gives a hint of the character of the work in his introduction: "We human beings think ourselves clever. Men talk proudly about the wonderful buildings they erect, the splendid machines they construct, and the grand furniture they make for their houses. But I shall show you some mechanics, laborers, carpenters and builders far more wonderful than man." As you read, you see beautifully laid out dwellings with terraced roofs adorned with cupolas; walls hung with lovely tapestries and inhabited by busy little masons. Soldiers, policemen, undertakers, cigarmakers, and representatives of nearly all professions and trades are met with. A delightful book from start to finish. With colored plates. 16mo, Illustrated. 75 cents.

COBERN, CAMDEN M., D.D., Litt.D.

The New Archeological Discoveries, and Their Bearing upon the New Testament and upon the Life and Times of the Primitive Church. With Introduction by Edouard Naville, D.C.L., LL.D. While filled with material that will be of intense interest to scholars and Bible students, this illuminating work is written in a style so popular as to make a strong appeal to every book-lover. Not only does it throw strong light on the text and style of the New Testament; it also presents a most interesting picture, drawn from the original sources, of the life, social and religious customs, art, literature, family relations, etc., of the early Christian centuries, that will make the people of New Testament times as real to us as our associates and friends of to-day. The book has many illustrations, is popular in form, yet loses nothing of scientific value by simplicity of presentation. Sixth edition, with author's final additions. Large 8vo, 742 pp. $3.00.

The first section of the book, dealing with the modern discoveries of papyri, presents some hundred large pages of great fascination. Also of great interest is the second chapter on the new light from papyri upon the language of the New Testament. . . . But this is only Part I. In Part II are studied the monuments, inscriptions and other remains with respect to their bearing on the life and times of the primitive church. The material comes mainly from Palestine, Pompeii, the Roman Catacombs, Phrygia and Syria. The excavations at the famous cities mentioned in the New Testament are treated in a special section, and finally the author considers new documentary and other evidence throwing light upon the early Christian centuries. This last section treats of classical texts in the light of new discoveries, non-Biblical Jewish literature which influenced theological and ethical thought of Palestine in the first century and the intellectual, social and religious life as seen in the papyri.—The Evening Sun, New York.

"I have known for some time that Dr. Cobern was planning this book, and I rejoice that it has been successfully completed. . . . Although I have been quite familiar with the material of the book, I have found much in it that is new."—Dr. Adolph Deissmann, great German Archæological Authority.

COWAN, SAM K.

Sergeant York and His People. A graphic, intensely interesting, and truthful account of the deeds of this American hero whom General John J. Pershing called the greatest civilian soldier of the war and whose feat Marshal Foch characterized as the World War's most remarkable individual achievement. Truthful in every statement, it will be found more fascinating, more interesting than a novel. To those who believe all Tennessee mountaineers to be "feudists," this book will provide many surprizes. To all who wish to know more of this great American hero, his home life, his friends, his surroundings, his lineage, his character—in fact, all the intimate details of his life and personality, "Sergeant York and His People" will bring hours of absorbing interest. It also reveals with mirror-like accuracy the condition and mode of life of the sturdy, pious, whole-hearted people of pure Anglo-Saxon stock who inhabit the mountain regions in Tennessee. The author's style is particularly pleasing, being direct, forceful, and easy to read. 12mo, Cloth, illustrated with 16 full-page half-tone illustrations. Jacket in colors. 292 pages. $2.00.

"We'll say there's a good honest American story in this book about Sergeant York, and if it doesn't hold a thrill and a smile and a tightening of the throat for you, then you are not the reader for whom we are editing this book page, that's all."—Daily News, Chicago, Ill.

"The story of Sergeant York gathers all the halo, official and romantic, into as thrilling a recital as anything in English literature."—Journal of Education, by Dr. A. E. Winship.

DIMNET, ERNEST, of the Faculty of the Collège Stanislas, Paris

French Grammar Made Clear. A grammar for schools and colleges, made up on a new plan which is designed to be of help to the pupil by giving him the rules that he must know and by leaving out all those that are unnecessary and confusing. Two of the outstanding features are the large number of phrases of the very latest coinage in both French and English, including military, aviation, naval, and war terms, political and economical expressions, etc.; and long lists of French and English conversational phrases embracing many of the most recent origin. Methods of address, types of French poetry, historical material, and other valuable information is also given. Great pains are taken to explain the differences between French and English usages, showing how impossible it is in many cases to translate directly from one language into the other, and how a paraphrase is often the only remedy. 12mo, Cloth, 253 pp. $1.50.

Latin Grammar Made Clear. (See under Petitmangin, Prof. H.)

DIX, DOROTHY

Dorothy Dix: Her Book. Messages of cheer, of wit and wisdom for all men and women—young, middle-aged and old—free from mushiness or sentimentality. A famous editor has described Dorothy Dix as "the most popular woman journalist in the world," because she "understands human nature, and with her sympathy and broad-minded tolerance she strikes a note that rings true in every heart." All she has to say out of her profound knowledge of life and human nature is pungent and sincere, and deals with all phases of our every-day life. 12mo, Cloth. $2.00.

DODGE, GRACE H.

A Bundle of Letters to Busy Girls. Helpful and practical talks to girls. 16mo, Cloth, 139 pp. 50 cents.

DORR, RHETA CHILDE

A Woman of Fifty. This unique autobiography of a most remarkable and courageous woman covers one of the most revolutionary periods of time in history—from virtually the beginning of a concerted movement to organize the women of this country in the fight for equality in politics and industry to the time when these hitherto unattainable causes were firmly established in our economic and governmental systems.

As journalist, lecturer, editor, and writer, the author has taken part in virtually every event that marks her generation; was the only woman war correspondent with the famed Russian Women's "Battalion of Death" on the last Kerensky offensive on the Eastern Front; spent three years in "after war" Europe, and is to-day in the thick of things in this country. Few men or women have met and overcome as many obstacles in life or fought harder for ideals as has the author of this volume —and fewer could relate their experiences in such a frank, forceful, and grippingly interesting style as this book reveals. There are no pages in which interest lags. 8vo, Cloth, 482 pp. $2.50.

FISCHER, LOUIS, M.D.

Health-Care of the Baby. (15th Edition.) A completely revised, rewritten, and greatly enlarged edition of this standard work based on the 14th edition. The importance of this new edition may be better realized when it is understood that the great recent advances made in the management and feeding of normal infants have made necessary radical changes in diet, particularly in the quantity of milk given. Complete instructions are given for feeding healthy and full-term infants as well as for premature, sick, and delicate babies. What to do in emergencies and accidents is well covered and wise counsel is given regarding what action to take in treating the principal diseases and affections of childhood, including a complete daily routine to follow in airing, bathing, clothing, and diet. A classic for the nursery and the home. Generously illustrated. 12mo, Cloth, 267 pages. $1.00.

Health-Care of the Growing Child, The: His Diet—Hygiene—Training—Development—and Prevention of Disease. Important to the parents of a child that has passed babyhood; covering General Hygiene and Development, Nutrition, Catarrhal and Infectious Diseases, Diseases of the Skin, Accidents and Emergencies. A practical answer for the many questions that arise when the doctor is not at hand. 12mo, Cloth, 358 pp., Illustrated. $1.50. (See also "Fathers and Mothers League Series.")

FISHER, IRVING, Ph.D.

America's Interest in World Peace. (Revised Edition.) A presentation of the cause of the League of Nations—a résumé of the author's "League or War?" with new matter added that brings the subject up to date. This volume recounts the League's work and its influence on world affairs; shows how it has fared in American politics; and ends with a plea for America's entry into the League and also into the Permanent Court of International Justice at the Hague. 12mo, Cloth, 144 pp. $1.00. Special Paper-Bound Edition, 60 cents per copy; 10 copies, $5.00; 100 copies, $30.00; 1000 copies, $240.00.

FISHER, IRVING, Ph.D., and FISK, EUGENE LYMAN, M.D.

FUNK, ISAAC K., LL.D.

The Next Step in Evolution. The Present Step—A Study. The author believes that "Christ came the first time into men's vision by coming on the plane of their senses; He comes the second time into men's vision by lifting them up to his plane of spiritual comprehension." 16mo, Cloth, frontispiece, 106 pp. 75 cents.

The Psychic Riddle. A record of psychic investigation since the publication of "The Widow's Mite and Other Psychic Phenomena," giving new typical cases of the several classes of phenomena. 12mo, Cloth, 243 pp., $1.25.

The Widow's Mite. And Other Psychic Phenomena. This book brings psychic investigations and the best thought concerning them down to date. It presents hundreds of experiences along psychic lines, and reasons most carefully concerning them. It gives fairly all sides. The answers of nearly forty of the world's best-known psychologists are here given with these marvelous experiences of a quarter of a century's careful investigations of psychic phenomena. Large 8vo, Cloth, 538 pages. $3.00.

†GEMS OF ART

A set of six beautiful volumes on the lives and paintings of the six world-acclaimed artists — Rembrandt, Reynolds, Greuze, Watts, Raeburn, and Constable. GRASSET, JOSEPH, M.D. (Professor of Clinical Medicine, University of Montpellier, France.)

Marvels Beyond Science. (L'Occultisme Hier et Aujourd'hui.) A record of progress in the reduction of occult phenomena to a scientific basis. With a preface by Emile Faguet of the French Academy. Authorized English translation by René Jacques Tubeuf, Fellow of the University of Paris. Dr. Grasset aimed scrupulously to mark the boundary between things already known and those which still remain beyond our understanding. He believes that phenomena still regarded occult will, in a comparatively short space of time, be included in the catalog of accepted scientific principles. 8vo, Cloth, 410 pp. $1.75.

The Semi-Insane and the Semi-Responsible. "Demifous et Demiresponsables." Translated by Smith Ely Jelliffe, M.D., New York. Authorized American Edition. No contribution to psychiatry could be more opportune than this. Dr. Grasset discusses the medico-legal aspect of crimes committed by persons who, through genius, heredity, upbringing, or trouble, are not wholly insane, and yet are not wholly sane. This is the only literature on this particular classification. 8vo, Cloth, 450 pp. $2.50.

GRENELL, REV. ZELOTES

The Sandals. (See "Hour-Glass Series.")

GREY, H. G., M.A. (See "Readers' Commentary.")

GRIFFIS, WILLIAM ELLIOT, D.D., L.H.D.

The Call of Jesus to Joy. In this inspiring volume, the gospel of optimism is proclaimed with insistent hopefulness and undoubting faith. That men shall heed the call of Jesus to joy is urged, primarily, because the author contends that joy is a duty; because in the school of life we learn the true lesson of joy from its One Master; because the "house we live in" should be full of Christian cheer; because the highest joy of the thinker is when he thinks of God and Christ; and because the supreme joy of the student is in study, with Jesus as both student and teacher. 16mo, Cloth, 93 pp. 75 cents.

The House We Live In. Talks about the body and the right use of it. Twenty chapters of exquisite poetic sentiment in charming prose, with wise instruction upon physical conditions and facts of interest and sensible appeal to young and old, with sound religious reflection and physiological common sense. It voices a new and appealing dissent from the old interpretation of what is taught in Ecclesiastes about Life and gives a wholesome and serene view of it from the standpoint of threescore and ten. A delightful contribution by Dr. Griffis to the literature of right living, bodily and mentally, and of happily and healthfully growing old. 16mo, Cloth, 214 pp. 75 cents.

HAWTHORNE, NATHANIEL

The Yarn of a Yankee Privateer. (Edited by Nathaniel Hawthorne; introduction by Clifford Smyth.) The publication of this volume of rare interest and of historical importance is the result of strange coincidences. Several years ago an unsigned manuscript, yellow with age, was found among some of Hawthorne's old papers. Its origin would have remained a mystery but for the finding, several years later, of a series of papers edited by Hawthorne in a long forgotten magazine for the year 1846. The old manuscript proved to contain chapters of the printed series which had never been published. The author, even now unknown, vividly narrates his adventures aboard an American privateer in the War of 1812; his capture and confinement on the isle of Barbados and in the ill-famed Dartmoor prison, and gives perhaps the only first-hand account of what led up to the Dartmoor massacre—the killing of American captives in this English prison. The illustrations are reproductions of old prints, drawings, etc. 12mo, Cloth, 326 pp. Illustrated. $2.00.

HAYDEN, ARTHUR

Spode and His Successors. This volume is the result of long and arduous exploration and will be indispensable to every one who is interested in English pottery and earthenware. This is the only complete and authentic record of the Spode-Copeland Factory and its productions which has been put into print. The author has traced the story of the Spodes from the beginning through all developments, filling up gaps, and dissipating many legends that have grown up concerning them. This volume will be noteworthy alone for its illustrations, which have been taken almost entirely from pieces in private collections. There are twenty-four plates in full color, mounted and tissued, and sixty-four half-tone plates. Super Royal 8vo, Cloth, 224 pages, 88 illustrations. Limited Edition. $25.00.

HEXAGLOT BIBLE, THE

Comprising the Holy Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments in the original tongues. The work presents the Scriptures of the Old Testament in six languages, the Hebrew, Greek, Latin, English, German, and French, and the New Testament in Greek, Syriac, Latin, English, German, and French. The texts are conveniently arranged in six parallel columns, three columns on each of two opposite pages. Edited by the Rev. Edward Riches De Levante, M.A., Ph.D. Assisted by competent Biblical scholars. The prominent feature is the analytical character of each reference. The Bible student can, at a glance, find out four distinct points: (a) What the original Hebrew or Greek of any word is; (b) its literal meaning; (c) a correct and trustworthy exegesis, and (d) what are really parallel passages. The Hexaglot Bible is uniquely available for the rapid acquirement of French, German, Latin, or the older Greek, Hebrew, and Syriac—for here man's most beautiful thoughts, exprest in the accepted purest, most elegant diction of these various tongues, appear. Having learned the elements of a language, you can read the language itself with close, continued interest, in the Hexaglot, referring instantly when in doubt to the English, directly opposite. Six volumes, quarto, Cloth, $60.00; Sheep, $70.00; half Morocco, $90.00.

The texts are those of the highest authorities. The Hebrew is that of Van der Hooght, carefully revised. The Greek in the old Testament is Dr. Tischendorf's latest edition, with gaps supplied in brackets, from various sources, and in the New Testament, Dr. Tischendorf's eighth edition similarly supplemented. The Latin of the Old Testament is the Clementine edition of the Vulgate, and in the New Testament, Dr. Tischendorf's edition of the Codex Amiatinus, with gaps supplied in brackets, from the Clementine edition. The Syriac (in the New Testament only) is based on the noted "Biblia Sacra Polyglotta." The English is the Authorized Version; the German, Martin Luther's translation, and the French is the translation by David Martin with revisions.

It is not only a sumptuous book for a library, but is also a book of comparative versions which will be of incalculable convenience and value. . . . Each version has been committed to a scholar specially qualified for editing it, and the whole has been produced in a style of printing which places the work at the head of the Biblical texts of this country.—British Quarterly Review.

"The Hexaglot Bible is, I am satisfied, the most satisfactory available presentation of the Scripture in parallel versions of the six great languages. As the great Origen in Alexandria more than fifteen hundred years ago magnified the value of the Scripture by presenting it in several versions, so does this great work promise to do."—Chancellor H. M. MacCracken, D.D., of New York University.

HILTON, WARREN, A.B., LL.B.

Basic Reading Course in Applied Psychology. A practical series of books on the application of psychology to the problems of personal and business efficiency, designed to make clear to the average man or woman the principles underlying mental operations and their utilization as a means to achievement in life. 12 volumes in ornamental box. Issued under the auspices of the Society of Applied Psychology. Apply for terms. (See page insert of detachable post cards facing inside back cover.)

"I consider the 'Basic Course of Reading in Psychology' the most remarkable books ever issued. I find them as fascinating as so many novels and read them as eagerly as I would the popular fiction of the day. Already I have experienced great benefit through application of the simple principles so clearly expounded. The world has been waiting for these books and the world will surely profit by them."—William Wallace Cook, Author, Marshall, Mich.

"The Society's books on Applied Psychology I consider the most valuable of any books on the subject that I have seen. I have read Spencer's Psychology, Munsterburg's Psychology, William James' Phychology, and many others, but from the view-point of usefulness these books, to my mind, are much more valuable. They are especially adapted to the purposes for which they are intended—the application of psychology to the affairs of every-day life."—Hudson Maxim, Inventor.

"In my opinion these texts should be taught in all the higher schools, thus insuring a century's advance to the present generation. Blindly I have groped for just this knowledge. The promulgators of these volumes should be hailed as benefactors of the race."—Dorothy Zimmerman, District Manager, The Supreme Tribe of Ben-Hur, Huntington, W. Va.

"I want to say that the twelfth volume alone is worth far more to me than was paid for all the volumes of Applied Psychology. You are making the world brighter and better."—John Benjamin Strasburger, City Statistician, Chicago, Illinois.

"I have been reading some of the best works on the subject of Psychology, but find it put up in the easiest form to read and understand in the Basic Course. It's just like A, B, C, the subject is made so reasonable and simple. I believe that younger students of this science who have found some of the best writers on the subject dry, uninteresting, and unintelligible, will not find this work so. My prediction is that a good many people are going to read and be benefited by this course who have never before given the subject any serious consideration or who have passed over it very lightly because it was not interesting."—M. W. Cook, Cortez, Pa.

HOLLOPETER, WILLIAM C., M.D.
Hay Fever, Its Prevention and Cure (Revised Edition). The new fourth edition of this widely used work contains information on the latest methods of treatment and the most recent well-substantiated facts regarding the causes of Hay Fever. The Immunizing method receives extensive attention. Several sections of the book have been entirely rewritten, bringing the volume down to date and in harmony with the best practise of the day. For all who are annually sneezers this book can not fail to have special interest. It comes from the pen of an expert, and should command the confidence of all who suffer from the summer's widespread scourge. Dr. Hollopeter was graduated from the University of Pennsylvania in 1877; served as interne in the Presbyterian Hospital of New York; and thereafter had large experience in private practice and as college professor, making a special study of diseases of the throat, eye and ear, with particular attention to Hay Fever. In this book he has written for laymen as well as physicians, and every Hay Fever victim should know what is the history, what are the causes, and what is the proper treatment of a disease which has been so baffling, so afflictive, and so inadequately understood, as told by one who in handling it has had great success. 12mo. $2.00.

"Self-interest alone should make its pages precious to all hay-fever sufferers as well as to physicians who have groped uncertainly for an efficient treatment for the scourge."—The Press, Philadelphia.

The contents include sermons and outlines, poetry, historical data, illustrations, descriptive data, etc., and are arranged in the most convenient and accessible form, and the volume includes an exhaustive bibliography, a topical index, index to authors, and index to texts. Compiled by Edward M. Deems, A.M., Ph.D. 8vo, Cloth, 768 pp. $6.00.

"This work is a treasure to which the preacher and speaker will resort for material wherever sermons or addresses are to be made suitable to the recurring anniversaries."—Zion's Advocate, Portland, Me.

HOMILETIC REVIEW, THE

An International Undenominational Illustrated Magazine devoted to an exposition and discussion of living issues and subjects related to all branches of religious and pulpit activity. Issued monthly. 8vo, 80 pp. Subscription per year, $3.00; single copies, 30 cents. Foreign postage, 50 cents a year. Vols. I and II (Metropolitan Pulpit), and III to VIII, inclusive (Homiletic Monthly), out of print; also Vols. IX and X and XXIX to LXVII. Vols. XI to XXVIII, inclusive, and LXVIII to XCI, inclusive, bound in cloth, each $2.00. Subscribers' copies for six months (January-June or July-December) bound for $1.25, carriage charges in both directions payable by customers. Covers for respective volumes, suitable for regular binding, 75 cents, carriage paid.

The Homiletic Review contains discussions and information on all the important practical topics and problems in theology, the pulpit, religion, and pastoral work. It secures the best contributions from the leading thinkers, writers, and preachers of the Christian world. The attitude of the Church and pulpit toward all the live issues of the day receives full attention in its pages. The Review is a practical help to ministers, theological students, and other religious workers.

REGULAR FEATURES

Editorial Comment discussing subjects of first importance in religion, theology, ecclesiastics, and social, ethical, and political movements as related to the minister and his thought and work.

The General Articles every month are from distinguished authorities and are of vital interest to the preacher and Christian worker.

The Work of the Preacher: This section contains each month articles on preachers and preaching; on the manner and matter of the pulpit, and on every related theme of interest to sermon-makers and pulpit occupants.

The Work of the Pastor furnishes articles on every approved and every possible new method in the work of the Church, discussing the pastorate in all its manifold relations, and dealing with every phase of the pastor's activity.

The Mid-Week Prayer and Conference Meeting Section contains thoughtful and inspirational material for each week in the year.

Studies in Social Christianity appear each month. Facts, information, and suggestions on the problems of our time are given by experts.

Studies in the Book comprise exegetical expository, and hermeneutical articles and hints, explanations of texts, side-lights of Scripture, analytical studies of passages, and exposition.

The Sermonic Literature: This section presents a monthly array of the very best utterances of the modern pulpit of the world. It also includes a large array of suggestive outlines, sermon hints and themes for all occasions, suggestive themes and texts. Under this head may also be found Illustrations for Pulpit Use supplying feathers for the preacher's arrows, all fresh, especially selected from new sources and comprising in the course of the year nearly a new cyclopedia of homiletic illustration.

Recent Books gives the preacher a summary account of the best books as they appear, and furnishes him a guide to his reading.

"The Review made its welcome appearancce this morning. It is the most welcome magazine of its kind I have found on either side of the Atlantic Ocean. From its pages I have found more sermon helps than from all the rest put together."—Ernest Barber, Pastor, M. E. Church, Scituate, Mass.

HOYT, J. K.

Hoyt's New Cyclopedia of Practical Quotations. (Completely revised and greatly enlarged by Kate Louise Roberts.) A rich treasury of 21,000 of the choicest of usable quotations, drawn from the speech and literature of all nations, ancient and modern, classic and popular, in English and foreign text, including outstanding phrases coined during the momentous years of the recent World War. While based on the latest former edition of a world-known work of reference and retaining its most valuable features, this NEW edition, based on the simpler plan of one topical alphabet throughout, is virtually a new work, for it has been entirely reset, contains 4,500 more new quotations and has new features of its own. Hundreds of the old quotations have been replaced by others both newer and more valuable. Contains 21,000 quotations from 3,000 Authors; 1,036 Topical Headings; 115,620 Entries in Concordance—Index; 1,374 pages. Royal 8vo. Cloth, $7.50; Buckram, $8.50; Three-quarter Morocco, $12.50; Full Morocco, $15.00. Patent Thumb-index, 75 cents extra.

Among the most important features of the work are the quotations from foreign writers, Latin law maxims, and an extensive list of French and Latin mottoes. All foreign quotations are always followed by their English translations. The Cyclopedia contains quotations from the Greek and Roman classic authors, from the great writers of the East, of Germany, Italy, Spain, Portugal, etc. A complete list is given of all authors quoted, with the full name, the nationality, a few words of characterization, such as "statesman," "poet," "historian," the date of birth, and, if dead, the date of death. The three distinct reference keys which are afforded for finding quotations in English are: (1) The topics; (2) the entry of each significant word in the concordance, and (3) the name of the author, with the number of the pages containing his quotations. Foreign quotations can be found under: (1) the topic; (2) the author; (3) some word in the original, or (4) some word in the translation. The quotations are classified under subjects.

"The most the present reviewer can claim for himself is that he has dipt into this portly tome here and there and that he has done what he can to plumb its depths. He has found himself so agreeably allured that he has now and again abandoned his casual browsing to read a score of consecutive pages, finding many old friends, familiar as household words, and making many new acquaintances whom he will be glad to meet again."—Brander Matthews, in an article, "A Treasure House of Lost Quotations," printed in The Literary Digest International Book Review.

"It seems to me the most useful and best contrived book of its kind ever published."—Booth Tarkington.

HUDSON, H. N. (See Aldus Shakespeare.)

HUGO, VICTOR.

An Intellectual Autobiography. Translated by Lorenzo O'Rourke. It was recently brought to light from Hugo's papers and manuscripts, and is the only volume of his prose writings not heretofore published. 12mo, Cloth, 400 pp. $1.20.

"The volume is sure to awaken wide interest among readers who are in any way concerned with the mind and writings of the great French poet and novelist. Coming as it does from an epoch in his life, which is perhaps of the most vital interest in any study of his genius, the volume may be described as a sort of mind-biography. It has a literary quality which French critics have accepted as on a level with the best of Hugo's prose writings."—News, Detroit, Mich.
